HALF AS MUCH . . .

IN NUMBER AND EXPERIENCE BUT TWICE AS TALENTED AND ENERGETIC! The theme for the 1988 Aubrey yearbook, "Half as Much . . . Twice as Good", was chosen to symbolize the separation of the elementary students from the middle and high school students for the first time. "Half as Much" represents the size of the school without the elementary, and "Twice as Good" expresses how the students feel about their school and themselves.

Doug Bruce, Jason Campbell, Keith Rocha, and Scott Thompson performed for the crowd of 4th and 5th graders after the students had compered in a lip-sync contest. Doug and Keith helped judge the contest and then put on a great show for the crowd.

Student Life covers the activities that occur outside academics. They are the fun parts of our education. The Coca Cola page records the history of the year listing the prices of many namebrands and popular items so that in future years you can look back and see how "little" you had to pay for the basics and the latest fashions. Carnival, which is a yearly event, pictures the winners from each school and much of the fun that was had by all. Homecoming, which is also a yearly event, shows the king, queen, and court. All other popular activities are covered in these pages.

is double the fun!

Summertime always brings around new excitement. Between working, shopping, sleeping, and eating, how could we possibly have found time for fun? Somehow we always managed! I must say that this was a summer that will never be forgotten. We shared good times and bad times together that will always hold that special place in all of our hearts. Our definite favorite of all though, is still the strip. If you have ever cruized the strip, you might have encountered Oscar Lopez's "mean green machine" popping out at the next red light. "I like my truck, because it attracts attention," Oscar told us. For the girls, his truck is always welcome. I wonder why.

Juniors, Vickie Sherrill and Rhonda Bell are caught car surfing on Kerrick Lindsey's car.

Junior, Lisa Lopes, relaxes at the park one day. She looks real enthused, doesn't she?

Thomas Bryant fell asleep on the diving board of Sherry Mega's pool while catching some rays.

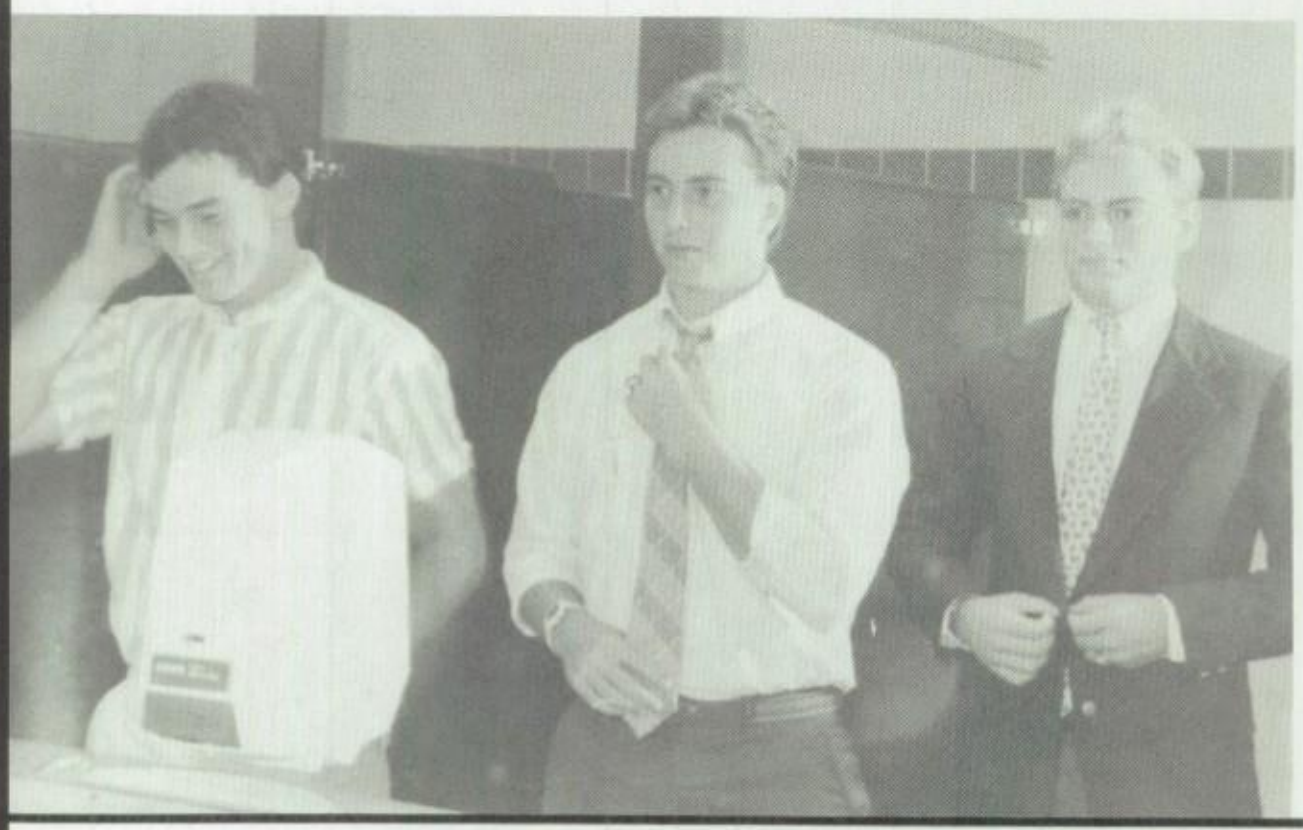
"Do you have a brush?" "Can I borrow some of your makeup?" "Does my hair look okay?" These are just some of the questions and comments you hear on picture day.

On this day, most students get up earlier than normal. Curling irons, rollers, and hair dryers are in constant use.

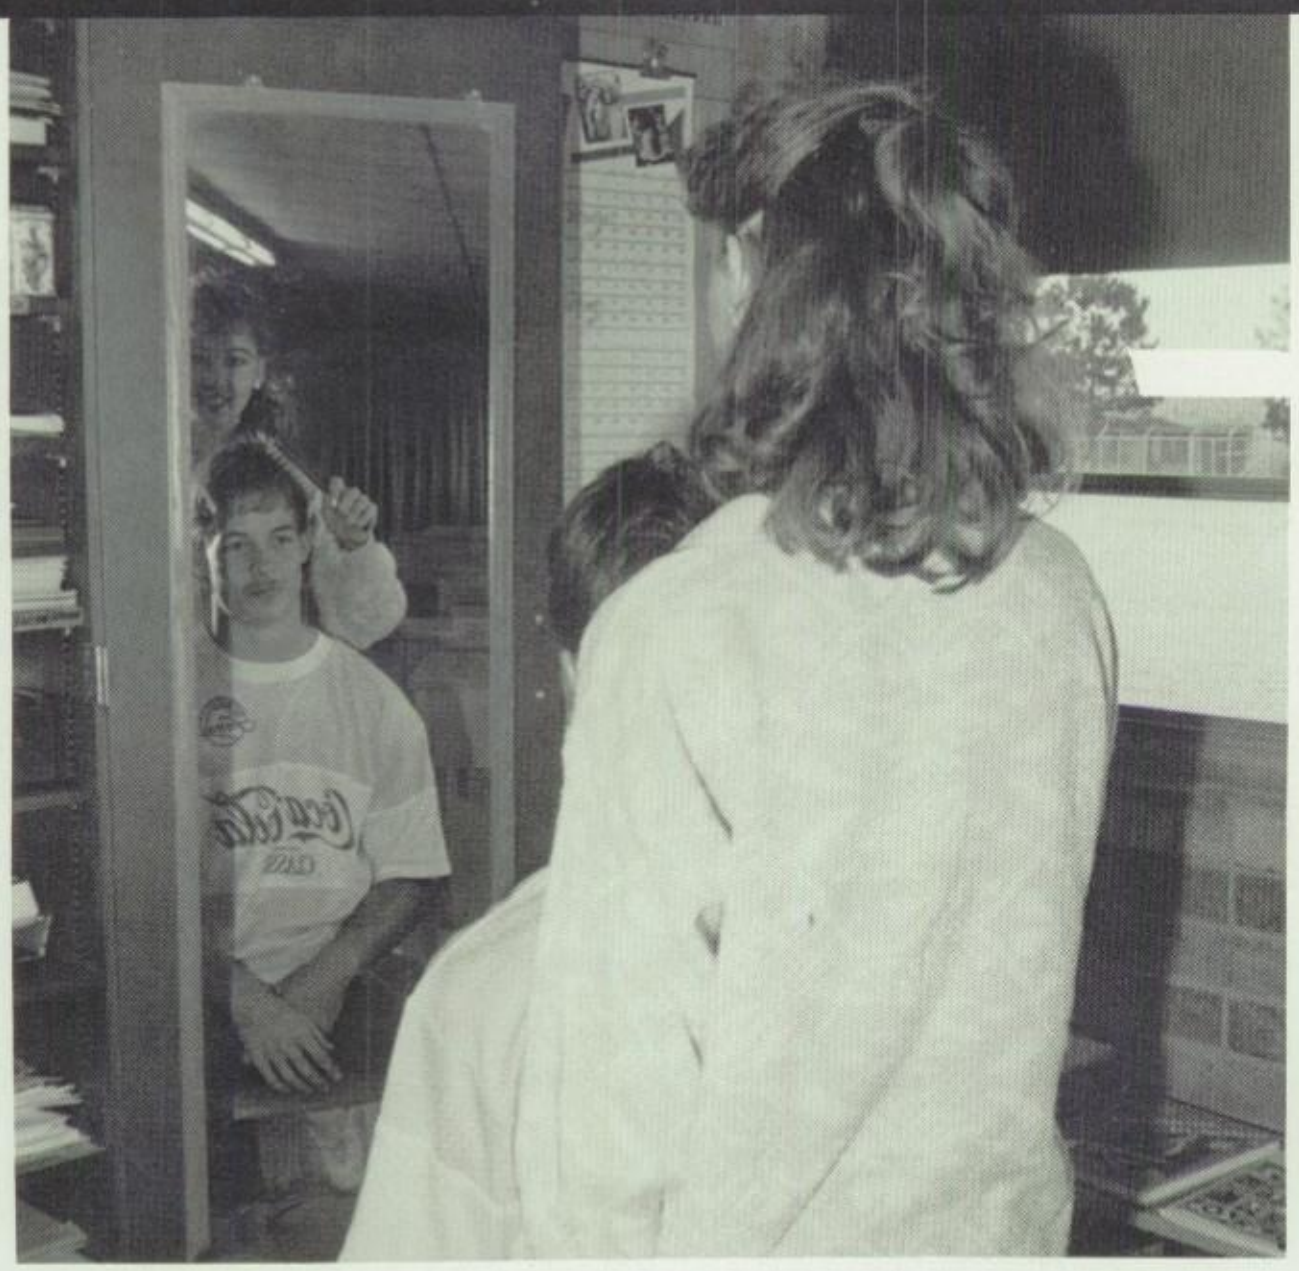
Walking outside, the rain begins falling just in time to get everyone muddy and wet before their picture is to be taken. "It was dry for three or four weeks and on the day pictures were to be taken, it rained!" said Kelly Moore.

Supposedly these things are bound to happen sometime, but why is it always on the days we want to look our very best?

Michelle Byrom was late, so she planned on doing all of her primping at school.



The senior guys had to wear suits and ties for their pictures. (and they say girls like to primp!)



Josie Daugherty was really rushed on picture day. She had two faces to make look good.

Because of the humidity and rain, Vicki Sherrill had to curl her hair at school.

How could we ever look our best without our friends to help us out?

A Constitutional Celebration!

These students have more reason than most to remember their 18th birthday, because they are also celebrating the 200th birthday of our Constitution. This is a big year for these people, because they registered to vote. With voting comes responsibility, and with responsibility comes maturity. The seniors also had a few speakers to come talk with them. One was Ruth Tansey, the county commissioner, and Dick Armey, our Texas congressman. Mrs. Fuller is trying to impress on these seniors the importance of getting involved. After all . . . they are the future.

▸ The whole school showed their love for their country by pledging to the flag in front of the school.

Ruth Tansey speaks to the seniors about her job as county commissioner.

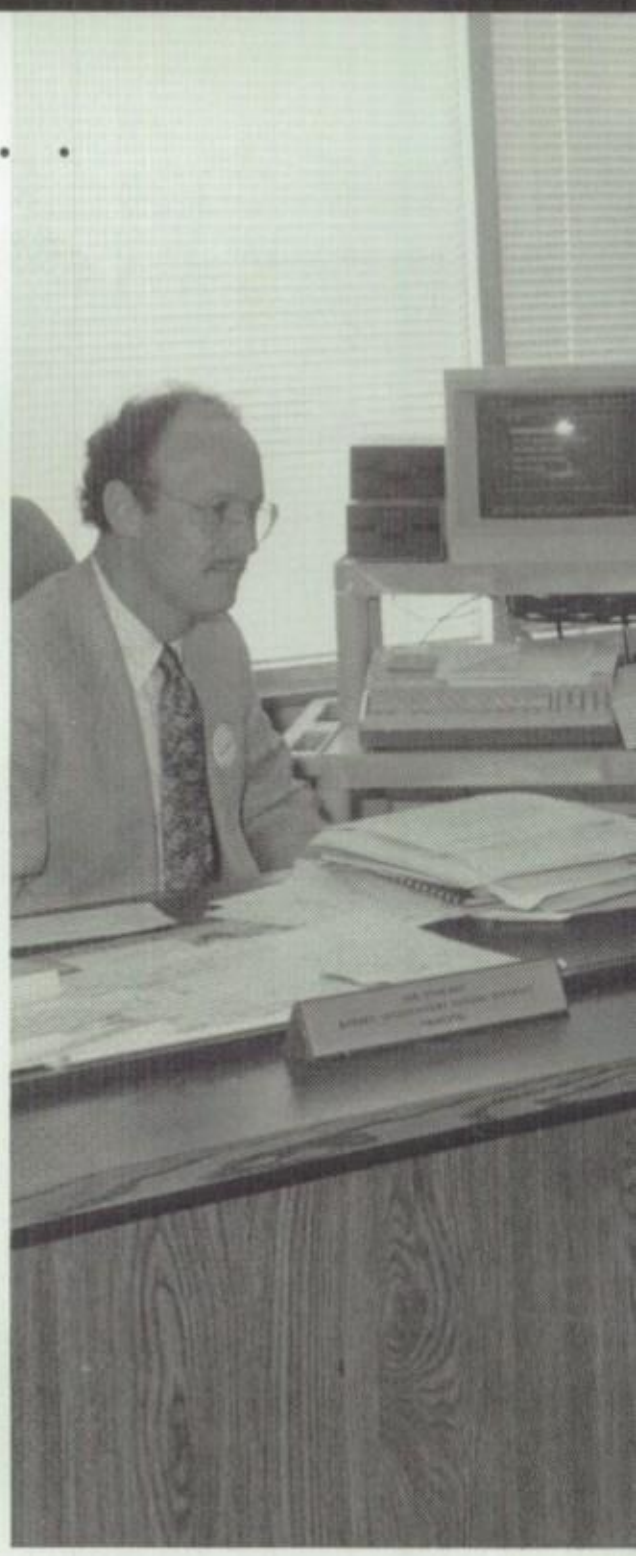
Doing Too Much Time . . .

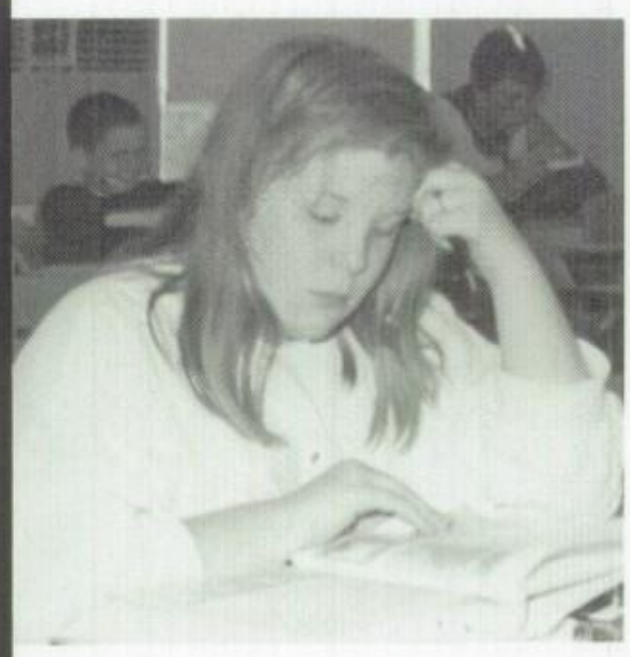
for such a small crime

Doing time is the worst punishment of all. Some of the things we do to get into trouble are: disrupting the class, failure to do homework, and skipping classes.

Some punishments that the teachers use are detention, staying after class for a lecture, and some may even be familiar with that big room called isolation. All of this is just a way to tell all of those trouble makers, "Who's the Boss."

John Bridges, said; "The only good thing about having to go to detention hall is getting out of those hard, athletic workouts that the coaches put us through."



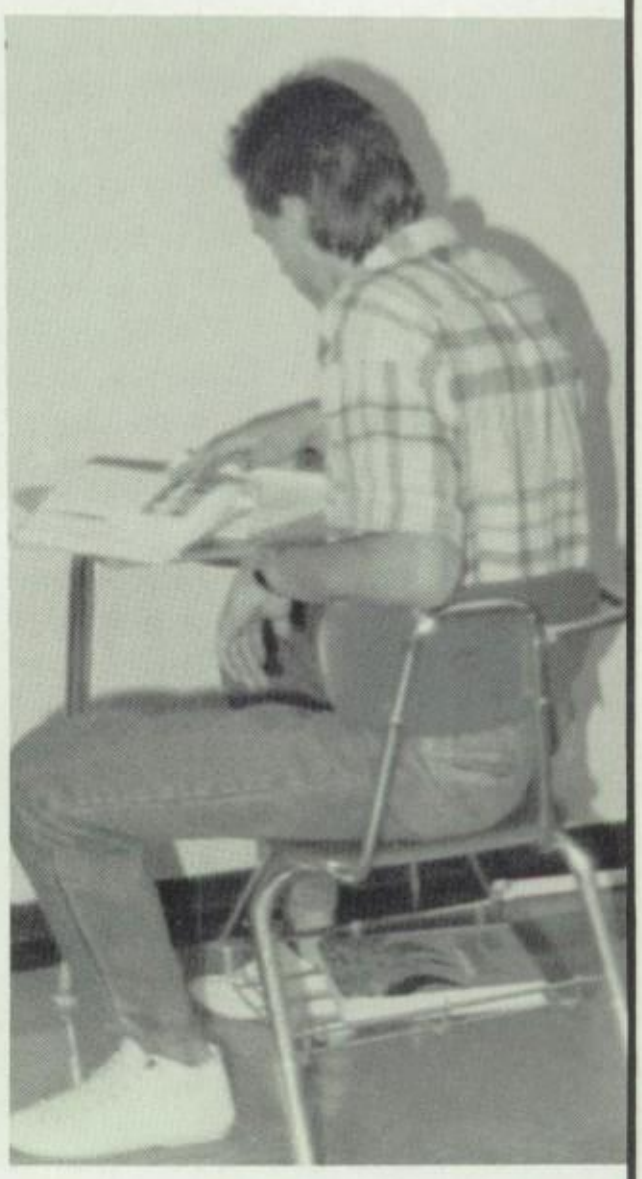


Becky Weaver looks real interested while serving her detention.

Mrs. Wieland gives a little grin while giving Jimmy Sanders a detention slip during her class.

Diron Cundiff and Michelle Chapman wait patiently for the punishment Mr. Key is giving.

Scott Norwood tries to concentrate in that lonely room we call isolation.



Leia is serving her punishment given by Mr. Garner by standing against the school flag pole.

Tonya Worthy and Crystal Gore sneak a peek at each others homework during detention.

Expensive Today . . .

outrageous tomorrow

At least once in our lifetime we have heard our parents say, "That is too expensive!" According to them, we will be saying that very quote to our own children. This page will help us to remember the prices we paid for these "necessities".

The most common things students spent money on this year are ropers, which sell for about $80 a pair; wranglers, that sell for $20 per pair; Guess jeans-$42; Guess jackets-$75; Coca-Cola shirts-$36; and slouch socks-$2.

Often students also spend their money to buy pizza, cokes, or even roses for their girlfriends. This year an average medium pizza costs $8.50 and a canned coke is 50¢. A dozen long stem red roses usually runs $45.

Coca-Cola

Almost everywhere we look this year there seems to be something that says "Coca-Cola".

Roses are always in style, but are never cheap. This year a dozen roses sent to your girlfriend would say a number of things.

The western look is one that is definitely at home in Aubrey.

Something new in Aubrey? A big Victorian style library. We now have somewhere to go to check out a book, instead of having to drive all the way to Denton. Some of the others are the Pizza Parlor, and the new florist.

The Texas Pizza Parlor gives all of these hungry teenagers somewhere to go to eat after school. The new florist has everything you will ever need for all occasions. They are an important part of our everyday life.

Aubrey seems to be getting bigger and better every day. Who knows, maybe someday we will even have a new high school to go to.

A Few Of The Best . . .

Representing A.H.S.

This year at Aubrey High School, we decided to hold elections for best personality, class clown, biggest flirt, most likely to succeed, best dressed, and party animal. This election gave the students something else to think about during school. These people will remember this honor for a long time.

Aubrey's biggest flirts, Troy Trevino and Larry Rodges seem to be pleased with receiving this honor.

Russ Skinner and Sherry Mega were chosen for most likely to succeed.

Dancing The Night Away

Valentine's 1988

Every year F.F.A. sponsors the Valentine dance, and it is always one of the best dances of the year. This year was no exception. However, the Student Council co-sponsored and decorated the Elementary cafeteria. For the first time the entertainment was provided by a live band, named the Crystal River Band.

Friendship Brings Us Together

memory binds us forever.

Being chosen for sweetheart and beau is an exciting and memorable Honor for anyone. Picking this award is a really hard task to accomplish since there are so many to choose from.

Sweetheart and Beau are chosen from F.F.A., H.E.R.O., Band, and F.H.A. There were also nominees that were chosen for F.H.A., and F.H.A. These nominees were Kris Foutch, Mike Starr, Lori Duff, and Kyle Arnold.

These people that were chosen will always remember this honor and will treasure it for as long as they live. Congratulations to all the Sweethearts and Beaus of Aubrey High School.

The F.H.A. Sweetheart and Beau this year are Heather Gheen and Daryl Hellman.

The Band Sweetheart and Beau for this year are Michelle Byrom and Todd Elkins.

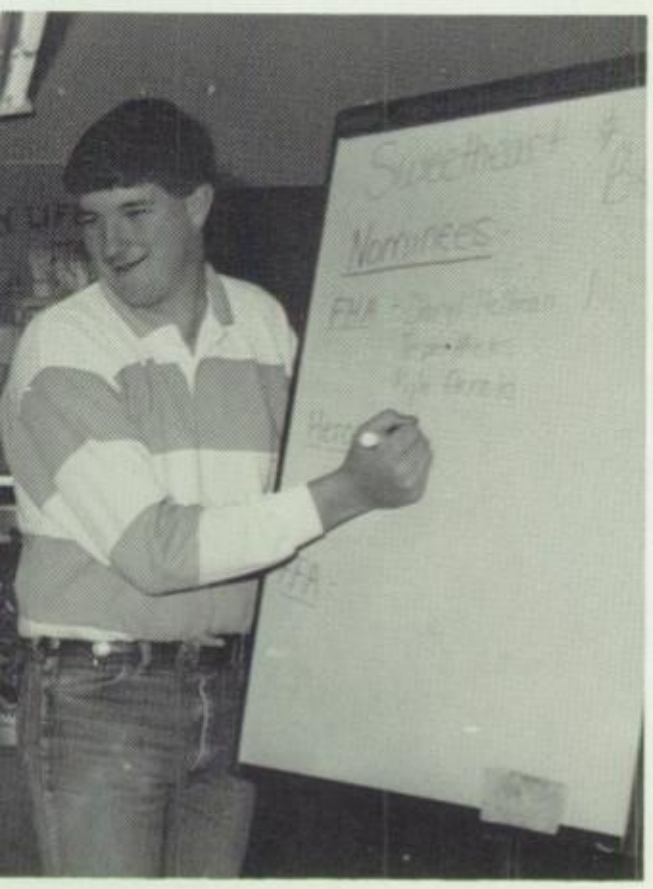
The F.F.A. Sweetheart and Beau this year are Juniors Regale Foutch and Chris Byrom.



This years Sweetheart and Beau for H.E.R.O. are Angie Brockett and Dwayne O'Dell.

double the pride

Homecoming Week is geared toward School Spirit. To start it off right, we had a bonfire Tuesday night, and as usual, the Student Council came up with fun and spirited themes for the week. An assembly was called this year to demonstrate the "proper" dress for the Zinc, Year 2000, Hat and Tie, Nerd, and School Color Day themes. Friday at 2:00 the fun and energy began to flow with the start of the parade. It ended in the High School gym due to a light rain. Afterwards at the pep rally, the cheerleaders did their routines, the drama department performed a skit, the football players were introduced, and Coach McBroom gave one of his famous speeches. Following the Homecoming game victory against Anna, the dance began. The theme, "Here We Go Again" was a big success as was the entire 1987 Homecoming Week.

homecoming night 1987

The Homecoming King, Queen, and Court are nominated by the students in their own classes. However, the King and Queen, who are always seniors, are elected by the entire high school student body. This year's Homecoming Queen, Kelly Moore, said, "I was very shocked to receive such a great honor. It has left a special memory of my high school years." Billy Fields, Homecoming King, was just as pleased, but in a different way as he stated, "I really appreciate having the honor of being Homecoming King this year. It really makes me feel good to know they like me that much. It makes me warm and cozy-makes my toes tingle." Princes and Princesses, the court, consist of freshmen, sophomores, and juniors. These students, along with everyone else at Aubrey High School, made Homecoming 1987 something to remember.

Last year's Homecoming King and Queen, Danny Bridges and Belinda Starr Lauer crown the 1987-88 Homecoming King and Queen, Billy Fields and Kelly Moore, during the pregame activities.

Freshmen Prince and Princess: Brian Ingram and Wendy Kruger.

Sophomore Prince and Princess: Michael Moore and Kelly Hollar.

Junior Prince and Princess: Michael Martin and Laney Byrom.

Senior King and Queen nominees: John Bridges and Kelly Moore.

Senior King and Queen nominees: Billy Fields and Karen Davis.

Senior King and Queen nominees: Dwayne O'dell and Angela Ivy.

Angela Ivy and Jamie Lucas were announced Mr. and Miss AHS 1988 on Friday, February 5, in the high school gym. Both students are actively involved in the Aubrey athletic program.

Double Their Duty . . .
Mr. And Miss AHS

Being elected as Mr. or Miss AHS is a big honor. Not just anyone can be nominated to hold this award. First of all, students must be seniors. Secondly, he or she has to maintain a passing grade average which can not be below 70. Finally, they must be in at least two activities outside the classroom. Mr. and Miss AHS are two people who we, as students of Aubrey High School, should be proud to let represent us. Both should continually strive to make Aubrey look good in the eyes of others.

The first election this year was held the third week in January. The three girls and the three guys with the most votes became the nominees. New handouts were then passed out. All students from grades 9-12 voted. When the ballots were counted and Mr. and Miss AHS had been chosen, the news was kept in secret until Friday, February 5. During a pep rally on this day, Mr. and Miss AHS were announced in front of the entire student body.

Karen Davis and John Bridges were two of the nominees for Mr. and Miss AHS.

The other two nominees for Mr. and Miss AHS were Josie Daugherty and Russ Skinner.

Ms. Mankoff shows she's not just a teacher, she's also a kid at heart as she dresses for school spirit.

Learning is the key to this section. Academics covers the main courses that every student has to take at one time or another during their middle and high school years. Reading, writing, and arithmetic are offered, but so are computers, accounting, typing, history, drama, science, band, agriculture, homemaking, newspaper, annual and band. These courses prepare you for the future by teaching you everything from dissecting a frog to writing research papers. By the time you graduate from Aubrey, you should be well prepared for the future, and life in the real world.

Charlene Miller, while in the chemistry lab, says, "If I wasn't wearing these glasses, I could do better."

Twice the Headaches...
Academics

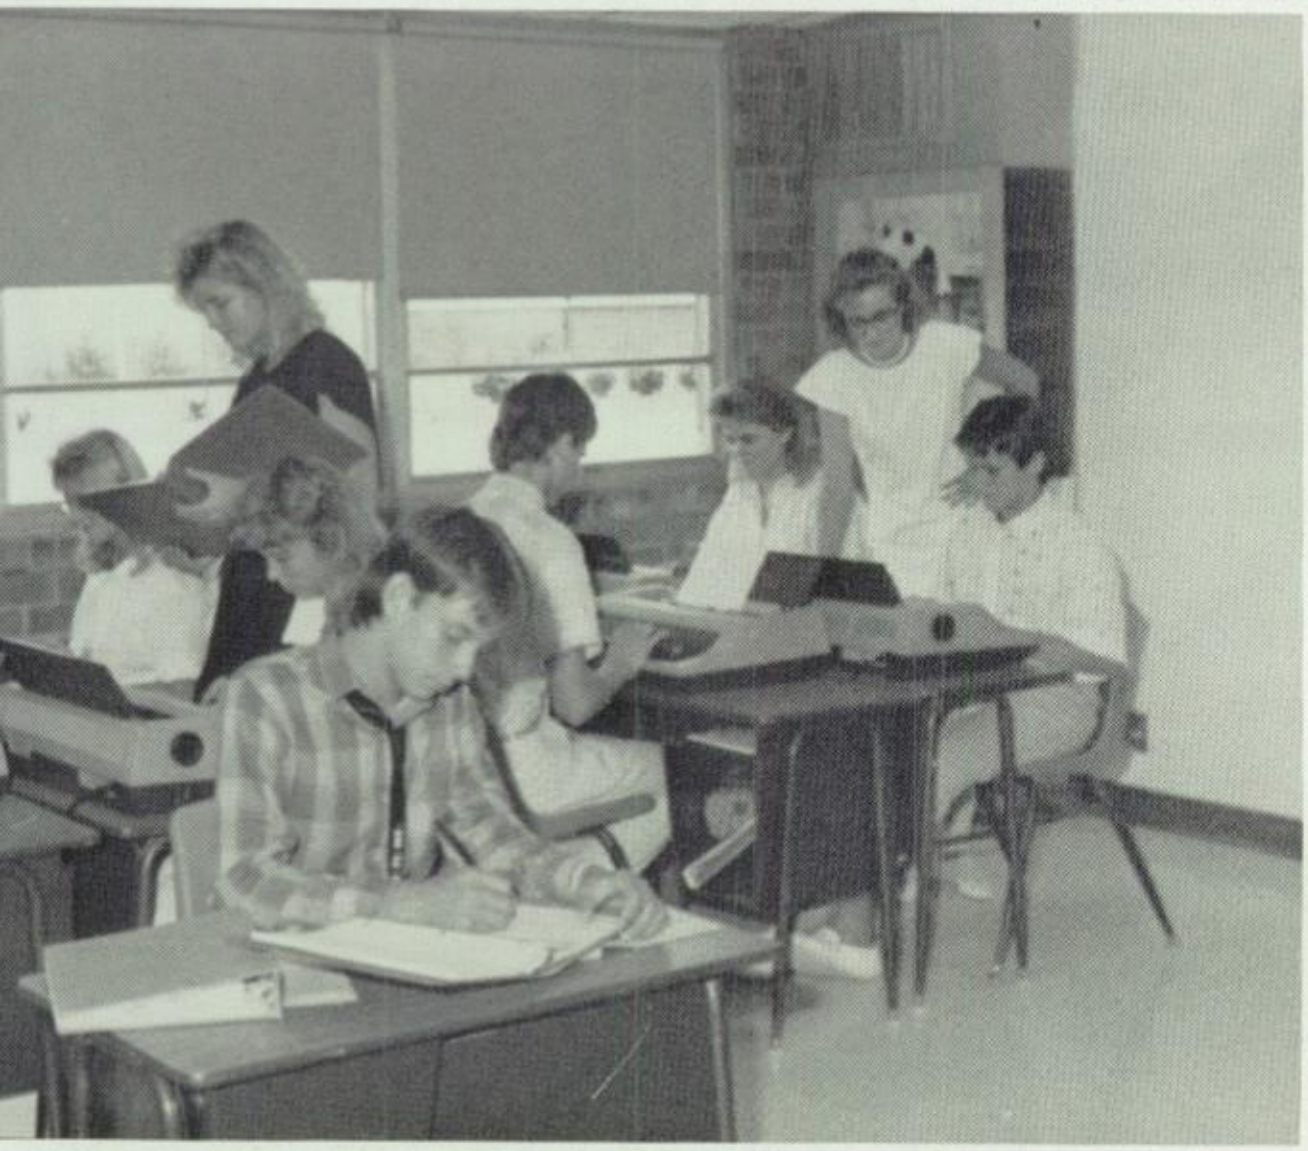
Twice The Guarantee

Computers accounting, and typing are skills needed for a business oriented career. These skills are helpful for a college bound student. The courses teach rhythm, mathematical skills and computer programming. This year was full of many good changes, including ll new typewriters for the new typing room, and two new connecting computer rooms. With more room and better equipment, these students excelled in their learning. When asked about the separation of the annual room and the typing room, Mrs. Pollard replied, "The separation of the classes helped them to be more productive." As the year progressed on, the work in these classes became more difficult. At times, the frustrating problems were too much to handle, but the students kept on working hard until the end. Completing these courses was hard work, but in the long run, these classes will help prepare these students for the real world.

Scott Norwood and Katie McNabb take a break from the normal classroom situation to get the feel of the real world.

Keith Rocha finds it is hard enough, in accounting, to get his books to balance without also having to fight the adding machine.

For A Future In Business



The Typing I class continues working hard as J. Skinner and S. Zachery take charge. The class consists of: J. Bennett, J. Skinner, M. Moore, J. Lucas, C. English, S. Zachery, R. Weaver, P. Kuzov, K. Green, and S. Eichenofer.

Jill Skinner seems to be the ideal woman for the job as she watches over Michael Moore in Mrs. Pollard's Typing I class.

J. Daugherty watches carefully as D. Bruce calculates figures in accounting class while competing for his grade on game day.

Working Toward The Future

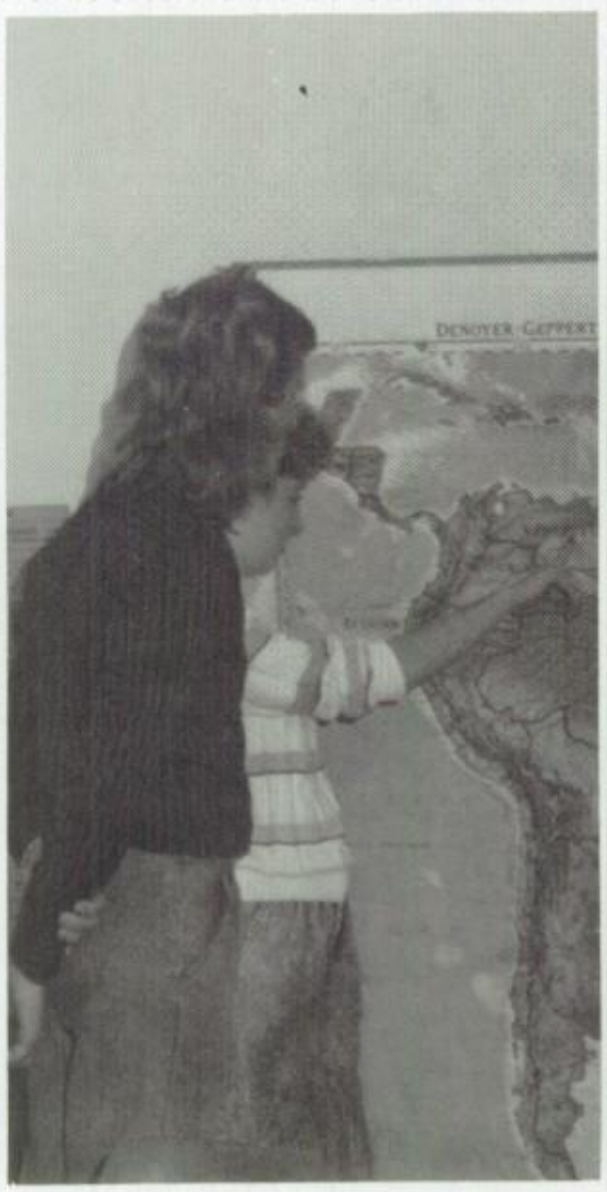
Headaches, homework, and frustration come easy with classes like trigonometry, chemistry, and Spanish I and II. These classes are special because they are not required for graduation. They are academic classes that are made up of students who want to receive the academic diploma.

This year, trigonometry had only three faithful students that lasted the whole semester. After semester, the class was dissolved in order to practice for U.I.L. competition. The three remaining students were Jay Leeck, Sherry Mega, and Charlene Miller. Mrs. Pyke taught the class.

Chemistry was a very large class consisting of 29 students. In Mrs. Ary's words, "It was like the little old woman who lived in a shoe."

Spanish I and II was taught again this year by Ms. Dillon. She had two Spanish I classes and one Spanish II class. They learn the fundamentals of Spanish. Conjugating verbs, translating English to Spanish and Spanish to English, and taking vocabulary tests are basic parts of learning this foreign language in Ms. Dillon's class.

Sherry Mega, Charlene Miller, and Jay Leeck work hard on their trig assignment. If they finish before the bell, it's five extra points.



Scott Thompson and Christina Bratton discuss the capital of Venezuela in Ms. Dillon's fifth period Spanish I class.

With Twice The Headaches

Mrs. Dillon's fourth period Spanish II class relaxes with cokes and chips, because half of the class is gone on a science club field trip.

Angela Ivy, Laney Byrom, and Russ Skinner are demonstrating a decomposition reaction by electrolysis. Chemistry is fifth period.

Trey Jennings works diligently at a construction page in geometry. Ms. Burk is assisting Angela Sessions and Michele Crowder.

Mr. Norris's third period World History class listens attentively. Travis Anderson is a new addition to this freshmen class.

Ms. Fuller's second period class celebrates our Constitution's 200th birthday. The students in class baked "We the People" cakes.

Jeremy Seese points out a question he did not understand while doing his homework in Algebra II the night before.

Tammy Long is putting up the "King Arthur" bulletin board. Jimmy Hampton is typing his report while Charlene Miller examines its cover.

Preparation for the Future

Preparing yourself for the future begins in the classroom with classes such as math, English, and history. Learning how to add, subtract, multiply, divide, and do algebraic equations will help you do common things in life. How would you balance your checkbook if you had not learned something in all of the math classes that you had taken? Some of the classes are Algebra I and II, geometry, and Mathematics of Consumer Economics (M.O.C.E.). Such classes as pre-algebra and informal geometry prepare you for the more advanced classes.

Our English courses must be some of the best in the state of Texas. For three years now one hundred percent of our junior students have passed the TEAMS tests. Hopefully, this new tradition will live on forever!

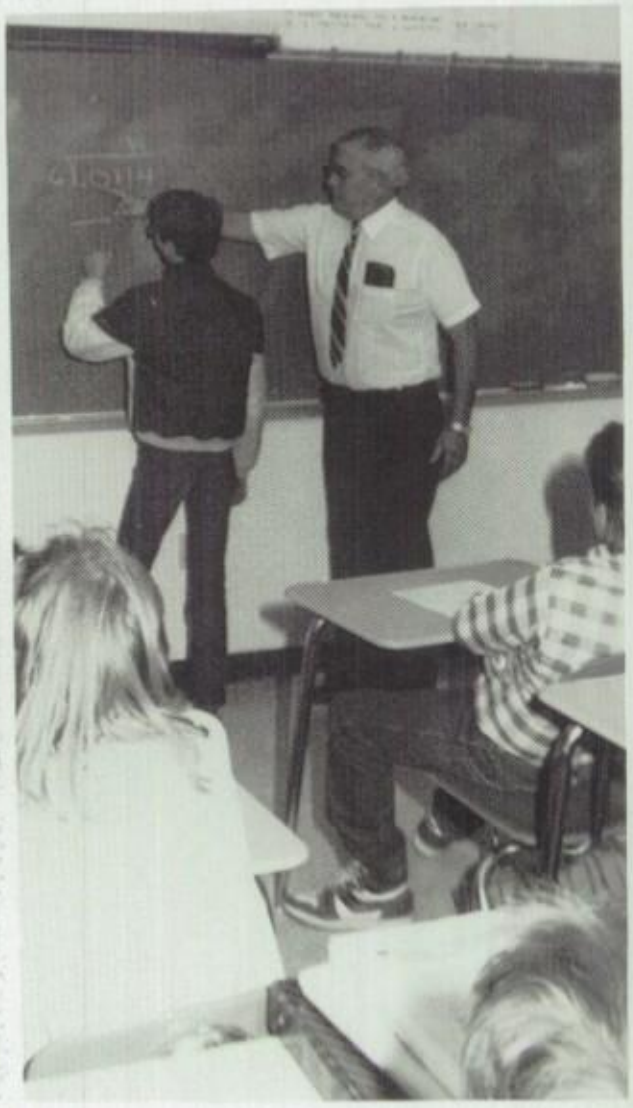
History is not just plain, old, simple history anymore. There are many courses involved with a great deal more work than before. In all of the classes, civil rights were stressed this year because of the Iran-contra hearings.

by Concentrating on the Basics

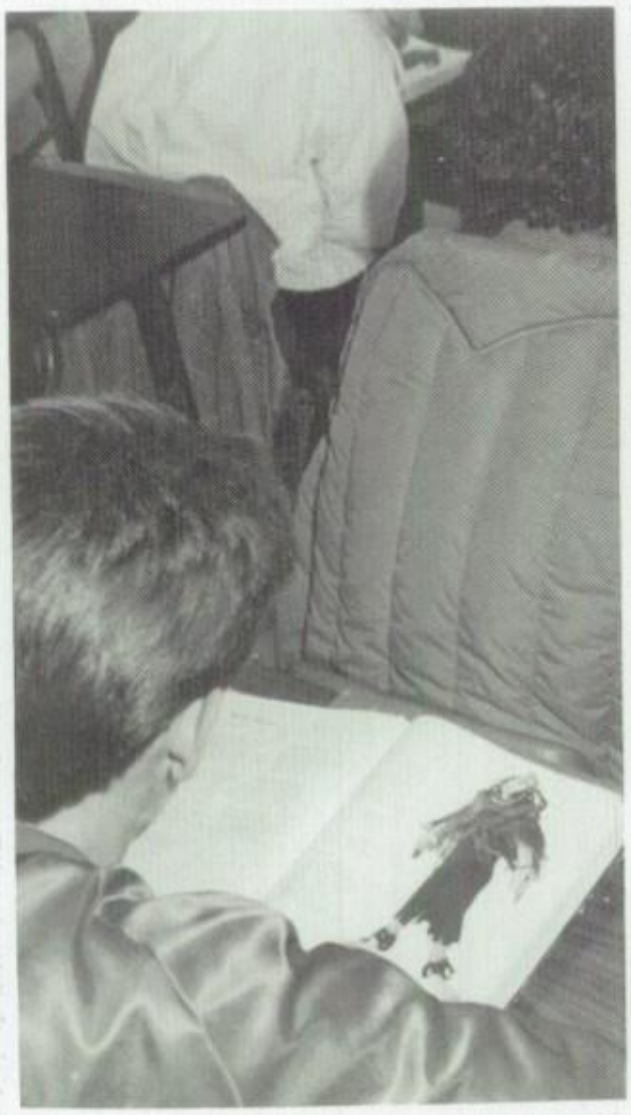
The basics are the bases for any good, solid education. History, English, and math are considered basics, because everyone is required to have the same amount of credits in each course to graduate. These three courses offer a broad range of subject matter.

Our history courses included Texas History, World History, United States History, and civics, just to name a few. Mrs. Fuller had her hands full with three senior civics classes right in a row. Mr. Norris had three freshmen world history classes that were quite an experience. In his words, "They are maturing. I have watched them grow up since the sixth grade."

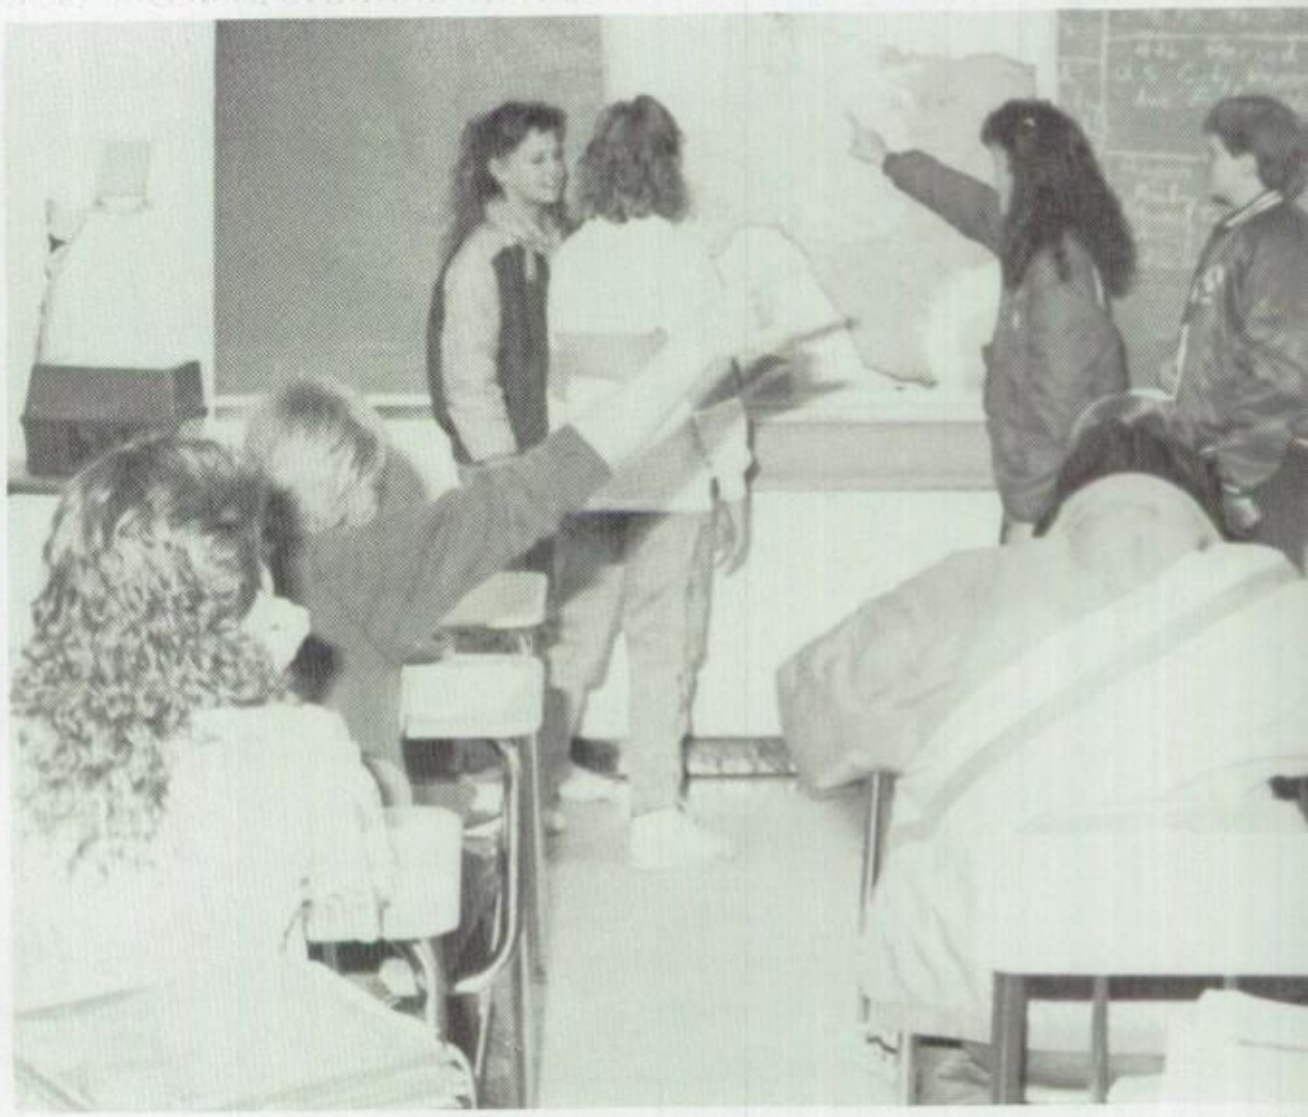
Mrs. Norris had all of the seniors and some of the juniors this year in her English classes. She had two senior academic classes and one senior correlated class. Also, she has two junior academic classes. Coach McBroom and Mr. Grovesteen had the freshmen and sophomore classes.



Coach LaDuke assists one of his seventh grade math students. They are learning the basics of division. Bobby Ball has almost mastered it.

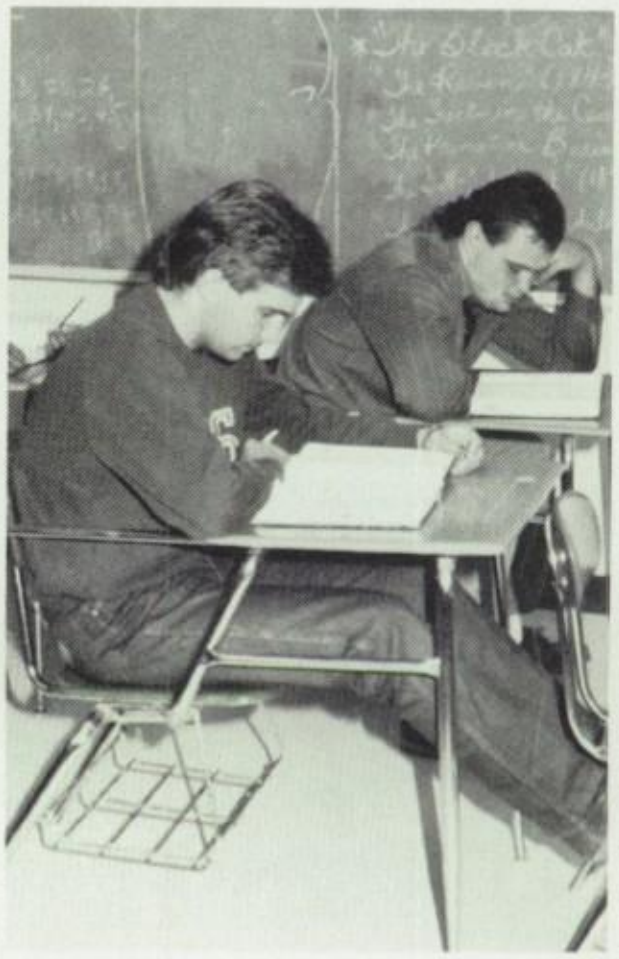


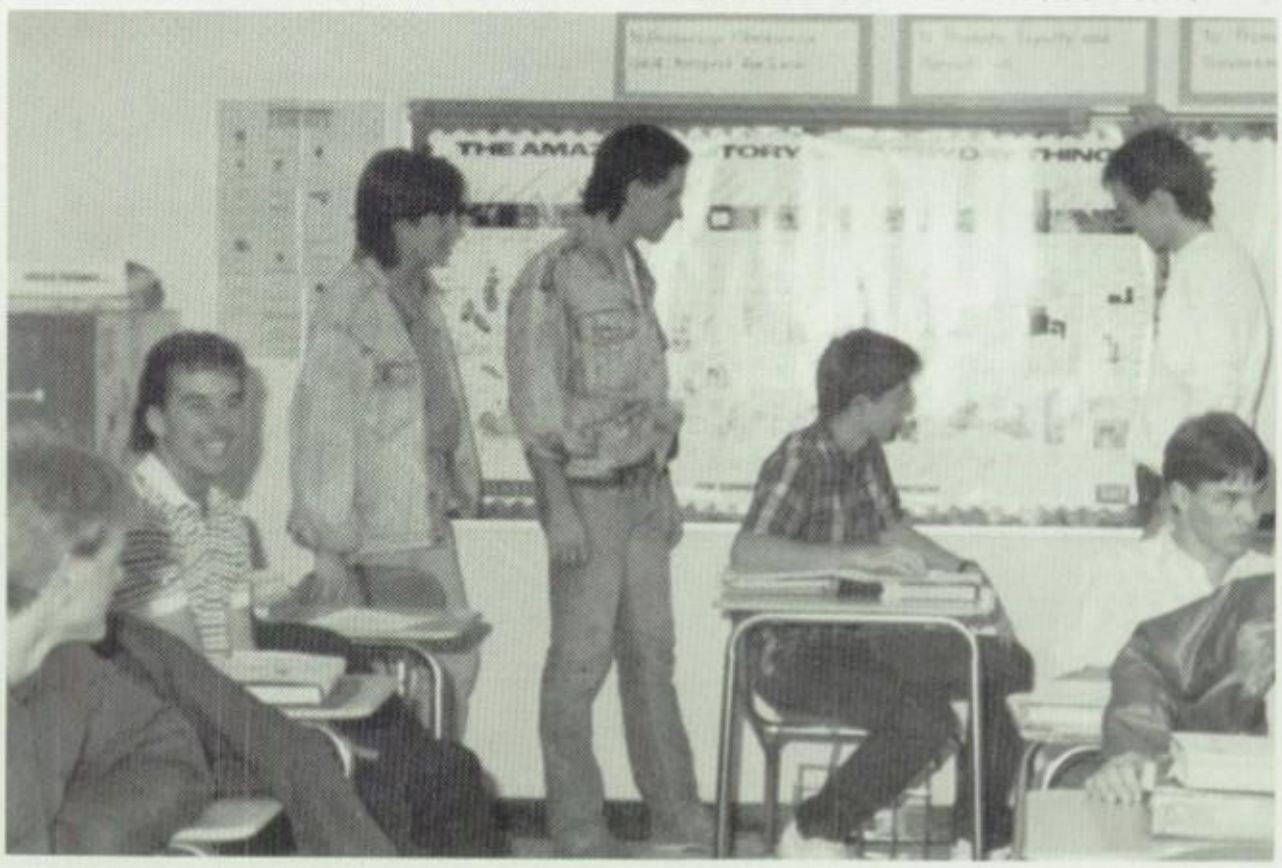
Coach McBroom's freshmen English class is reading "Molly Mean." This English class is bright eyed during first period.



Ms. Burk's M.O.C.E. class gathers around the newspaper to look for alternative employment opportunities for a class project.

Lanny Sanders and Gabe Yoakum sit patiently waiting to read while Ms. Norris explains the plot of one of Shakespeare's tragedies,"Macbeth."





Lanie Hurder, Aimee Hunter, Crystal Mulkey, and Rodney McCray point out central Texas to Mr. Firth's Seventh grade Texas History class.

This is Ms. Fuller's fourth period United States History class. They are reading the chart of "The Amazing History of Everyday Things."

Lori Duff is really enjoying playing with this adorable baby. She is learning how to care for children in child development.

Kyle Arnold and Regina Kruger pretend to get married in their home and family living class. Bill Russell is posing as the preacher.

Jason Hardin proudly shows off his steer. He is learning how to raise and take care of animals in agriculture.

Tina Bedrick patiently stirs the cake dough. The mixer is an example of the "realistic" appliances in the homemaking lab.

In housing and home furnishings, Rhonda Bell, Jason Hicks, and Deverie Bridges try to arrange furniture on the "model" home.

HALF THE FUTURE

Learning about the future in child development, agriculture, home economics, home and family living, and housing and home furnishings is really not as hard if you apply yourself and use a little common sense. Many of the things taught are already implanted in our brains from when we were small children. Animals must always be taken care of, babies are fragile, the fork goes on the left, and the stool does not belong in the middle of the hallway are simple things that have been drilled into our heads for ages.

Mr. Garner and Mrs. Brown have unique classrooms. Both classrooms have a realistic atmosphere, oriented more toward the home and shop. Such things as a kitchen with a real sink, stove, oven, microwave, refrigerator, and cabinets make the concept of cooking more adaptable to the home. The ag shop has its own tool room, which is stocked with many standard necessities. There are also work benches and a few electric tools.

RELIES ON TRADITION

Tradition, as defined in Webster's New World Dictionary, is the handing down orally of customs, beliefs, stories, etc. from generation to generation. What traditions, that you can think of, are passed along through such classes as child development, agriculture, home economics, home and family living, and housing and home furnishings? The skills and lessons being taught are not directly taught as traditions. More indirectly, they are taught as the skills and lessons needed to carry on the traditions.

You may be wondering what sort of traditions could be taught in a classroom. Well, in the case of agriculture, which is taught in more of a realistic atmosphere, there are such things as the care and feeding of animals and the maintainence and care for a car. In home economics, you will learn cooking, sewing, and simple meal planning. The care and feeding of a small child and how to keep yourself fit during pregnancy is taught in child development.

Keith Rocha, Jay Brown, and Sabrina Eichenhofer are involved in an important decision. They are picking out fabrics, etc. for housing and home furnishings.

Matt Bowman, Michael Moore, and Scott Erwin are having fun at the Moore's home. Michael is teaching them how his tractor runs.

Daryl Hellman and Angela Ivy cannot believe the money that is spent on bills for the home. They are in home and family living sixth period.

The first period child development class is learning how to change diapers. Lance Gillum doesn't seem too happy about it.

Jason Burgess works with an electric saw in the agriculture shop. He is learning one of the basic skills needed in the "real" world.

Tereasa Lantrip is showing Sharon Redfearn that the seam should only be 5/8 of an inch wide. They are in Homemaking II, second period.

PERFECTING OUR FUTURE

Improving our future begins with knowledge about nature. All of the sciences that are taught in school help to contribute to our success in life with our bodies and our environment. Hopefully, the lessons learned in the past years will have an impact on the students who have studied them.

This year's science classes were taught by several teachers. Mrs. Ary taught biology and physical science, Coach Nelson taught 7th grade science, and Mr. Smith taught 7th and 8th grade science.

Health and physical education, who was taught by Coach Bloedel and Mr. Grovesteen, was not always considered a science class, but it does teach students about their bodies. These classes emphasize on how important it is to exercise daily and take care of your body so that they will live a long and healthy life.

During the physical science class, Mrs. Ary assists a group while the rest of the class concentrate on the new laboratory experiment.

By Learning About Nature

Coach McBroom sneaks a cup of coffee from the lunch room on a rainy day during Coach Norris's P.E. class.

Michael Moore, Jay Lucas, and Stephanie Zachery look really enthusiastic as they dissect worms in Mrs. Ary's biology class.

Lee Hinsley, Angel Hampton, and Becky Weaver are observing slides on a trip to the laboratory during Coach Nelson's 7th grade science class.

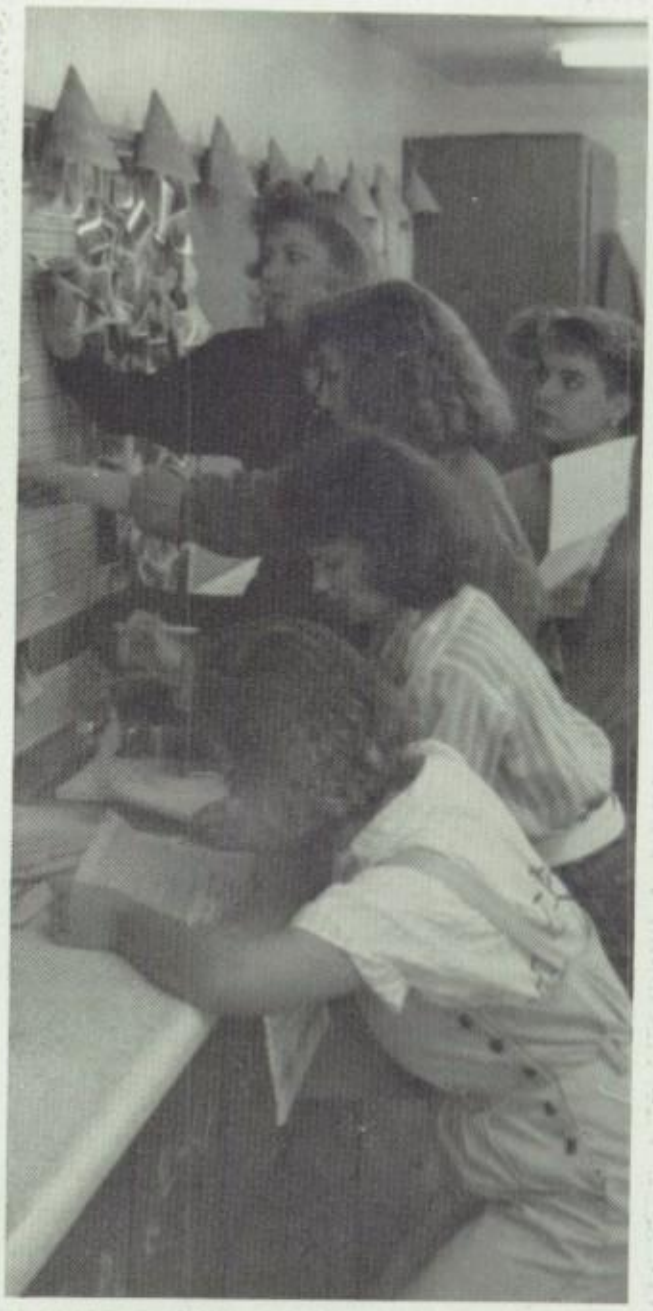
The sponsor of the newspaper, Mrs. Norris, explains this months layout to her staff: (l to r) L. Ingram, V. Sherrill, J. Daugherty, K. Barrett, and editor, L. Byrom.

Nicole Nelsen and Jason Campbell display their talents in Mrs. Stark's drama class. They are performing for a grade.

After the last day of annual camp, some of the staff members took the afternoon to cool down their brains at the TWU swimming pool.

During the rush of a deadline, editor, Kerrick Lindsey and copy editor, Sherry Mega, help each other complete their pages in annual.

C. Miller, T. Morgan, M. Crowder, N. Hanson, and H. Gheen work together in the annual room.



BRIGHTENING OUR FUTURE

Ten years from now, we, the student body, will remember extra curricular activities that we participated in during our school year above all else. Drama, newspaper, and annual were the free spirited classes that let our imagination flow freely. Through these classes, we developed skills that were not created in the normal classroom atmosphere.

The newspaper reported present activities that was happening in our school throughout the year. Information included in the newspaper were articles on all of the Jr. High and High School organizations, Jr. High and High School sports, Elementary news, and a message from the administration. There were also special activities throughout the month that were printed in the newspaper.

The annual staff was an organization that reported the news, also. They collected information about all of the special activities and organizations of the student body and put it all into one book that carries the memories of our school years through out time.

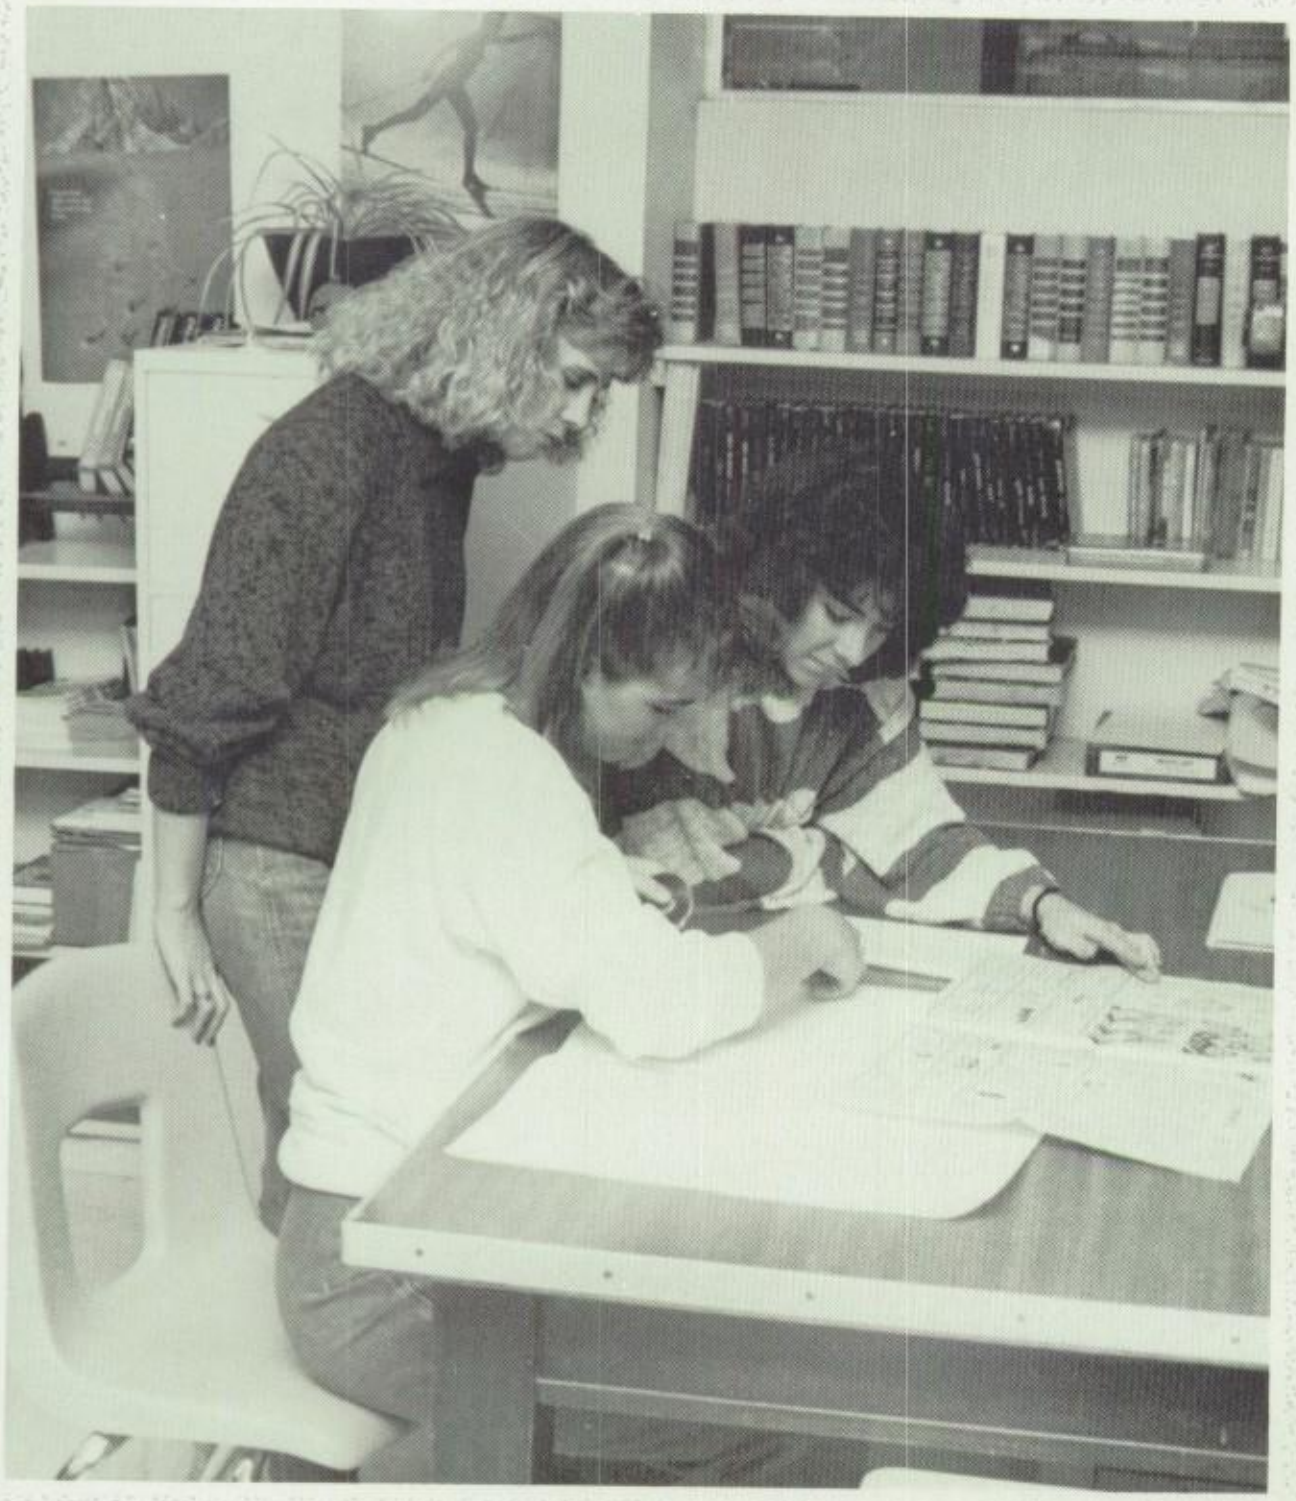
By Reporting And Making Memories

Brightening our future begins with the little things that happened in our school years. Drama, newspaper, annual, and other extra curricular activities brightened each day of our school year with creative studies. These classes develop the creative side of our mind, the right brain.

This year's Drama Department added a new area of study, Technical Theater. This is an area of drama that studies building sets, props, and other items which are used in the plays that are produced by the Drama classes I and II. Mrs. Stark taught three Theater Arts I classes and two Theater Arts II classes in addition to Technical Theater.

The school newspaper, Chaparral Action, was prepared by an excellent group of students. The members included: Laney Byrom, editor, Leighann Ingram, co-editor, Vicki Sherrill, co-editor, Kristie Barret and Josie Daughety, staff writers. There was also a group of students that contributed to the paper, but were not on the actual staff. These students were Melissa Branson, Michelle Byrom, and Sherry Mega.

A new addition to this year's Drama Department was Technical Theater. They are displaying their new found interest in theater.



This year's editor, Laney Byrom, and co-editors, Vicki Sherrill and Leighann Ingram are working on this weeks deadline in newspaper.

Co-editor, Leighann Ingram, helps Kristie Barret, a new member, on a layout. For a new comer, the first deadline is mass confusion.

C. Clowdus, B. Redfearn, S. Mega, C. Miller, K. Davis, V. Sherrill, and K. Moore take a short nap before sunrise after working from five on.

Mrs. Sanders shows that teachers are people too when her class wins ice cream one day during spirit week.

The People section of the year book includes individual pictures, "mug shots" of each student grades six to twelve and the faculty. The term "mug shots" is used because the photographers do not care if you are perfectly posed, your hair looks good, or anything else. They take your picture using the same background for everybody, and they move you on like is thought would be done in the processing of mug shots taken during a booking in jail. Much work goes into preparing these pages, however. Each student's picture is placed in order and then checked and rechecked.

Jannah McDade uses this setting to illustrate what we call the mug shots that are in this section.

FINALLY COMPLETE

Flight of the Future

The bird has flown and time
with it upon its wings.
What a wonderful melody it sings.

Yesterday, we were young and carefree.
Now, the future we begin to see.

These twelve years have been an eternity.
They are only a fraction of the life that will be.

The Junior High cheerleaders, Amy, Lori, Melissa, Tammy & Kristie, perform a pyramid learned at camp.

Organizations is the section dedicated to school related clubs where students that find time in their schedules can participate in activities in the areas they enjoy most. Cheerleaders, for instance, make time from 7-8 a.m. every morning during football season to practice cheers and routines. The drill team started late this season, but was performing by Homecoming. Other clubs, such as Beta, Spanish, and Drama, go on field trips. Beta members went to Omni Theatre and convention, while the Drama and Spanish departments enjoyed a performance of Don Quixote.

Double The Fun
twice the work

The Aubrey Student Council of 1987-88 school year consists of 12 active members and one real cooperative sponsor. The students in Student Council represent the student body. The council works on many different activities. They have all worked really hard this year. They are a determined bunch of students.

Homecoming is the main event of the year. The theme of the Homecoming dance was "Here We Go Again." The dance was a big turn out. The Homecoming week was rather exciting. The council gave ice cream to the best dressed second period class. Monday we participated in Zink/Paint day; Tuesday, Year 2,000; Wednesday, Hat and Tie day; Thursday, Nerd day; and Friday, Color day. There was a parade Friday and following that was a pep rally. It was a rainy day, but that didn't stop us. We went on with everything as planned. It all turned out real well.

Teresa Lantrip makes a sign for the Student Council to advertise the Homecoming dance.

Mr. Grovesteen is the Student Council sponsor.

Although the Student Council works hard on the float for the parade, they still take time to have fun.

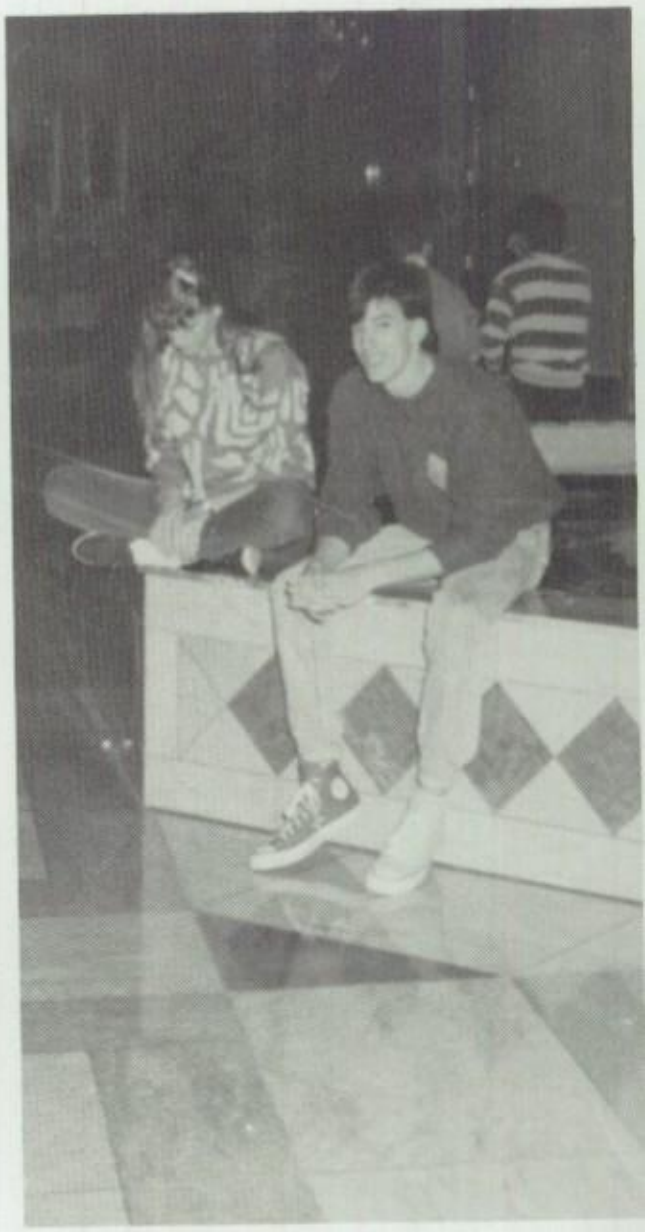
The officers representing the 1987-88 Student Council are: (r to l): Pres. Karen Davis, V.P. Vickie Sherrill, Sec. Beverly Redfearn, Tre. Rhonda Bell. The officers work hard to keep Student Council on the right tracks. Mr. Grovesteen works hard with these students. "He trusts our own opinion, and goes along with us even if he has his doubts. That means alot to us," said Karen Davis.

Dedication Is The Key
Accomplishment Is The Goal

In the fall, the club took its annual field trip. They visited the Fort Worth Museum of Science and History and saw an Omni production about the Grand Canyon. The members also visited the planitarium of the museum. They learned about the planets and positions of the stars. Members of the Jr. Beta Club went on this trip, too.

Later, in the spring, some of the members of the club went to the state Beta Club Convention. It was held in Austin at the Stouffer Hotel. The purpose of the convention was to elect state officers to represent Texas at the National Beta Club Convention.

The club was sponsored again this year by Ms. Pyke. The officers of the club were Russ Skinner, president; Michelle Byrom, vice-president; Angela Ivy, secretary; and Kerrick Lindsey, treasurer. All of these officers are seniors. The other seniors of the club are C. Miller, S. Mega, J. Leeck, and A. Mulkey. This was their last year to be involved in this club. K. Lindsey said, "I am going to miss going to convention and meeting new people."



Sherry Mega, Kerrick Lindsey, Jay Leeck, and Russ Skinner participated in the competition for the Quiz Bowl held at convention.

Starting Out Great
Finishing With Success

Jr. Beta Club is not just for anyone. It is for 7th and 8th graders who make A's and B's in their academic classes. To get into Beta, you have to have an 88 average overall with no grades below 80. Jr. Beta membership is not just due to grades; leadership, character, and achievement play an important role, also. When asked about the Jr. Beta Club, Mrs. Pyke, sponsor, replied, "This 8th grade class has more members in Jr. Beta than any class has ever had." The main activity of the year was the field trip to the Ft. Worth Museum of Science and History. While there, they saw Planets On Parade at the Planetarium and Grand Canyon at the Omni Theater. The Jr. Beta also held a spring initiation with the Sr. Beta Club. The new members were initiated along with the installation of the new officers. This year's officers are: Starla Starr, President; Stacy Cosby, Vice President; De De Green, Secretary; Tracey Starr, Treasurer; and Stephanie McNabb, Historian. This year's Jr. Beta Club started off great and finished the year with success.

Reaching For The Stars
While Working Twice As Hard

The Drama Club produced Meet Me In St. Louis for the U.I.L. One Act Play competion. The production was started in October. Because of certain circumstances beyond control, it was delayed. When asked about having to delay the play, Mrs. Stark, club sponsor, replied, "I've never had to cancel a show and it was a hard decision to make. But, it was like The Phoenix rising from it's ashes." With new enthusiasm, it was started again in February. Surprisingly everyone had a fantastic attitude about the success of the play. Besides the One-Act-Play, the Drama Club successfully performed skits at the pep-rallies to encourage spirit and enthusiasm.

The club had a disappointing blow to the heart when Ms. Stark announced at semester that she would be leaving Aubrey to move to Washington, D.C. But, to everyones approval and excitement, she remained at Aubrey. The officers representing the club this year were: Sherry Mega, President: Jason Campbell, Vice President; and Charlene Miller, Secretary.

▲ Members are (l to r) (top): C. Byrom, J. Seese, J. Lantrip, J. Campbell, J. Rodges; (second): K. Lindsey, K. Barrett, T. Lantrip, Ms. Stark, P. Kuzov, A. Mulkey, S. Mega; (bottom): J. Wise, K. Beard, K. Foutch, R. Wooldridge, C. Miller, and N. Nelsen.

Moving To The Future
while still having fun

The Chess and Science Clubs are two organizations that aren't as dominant as others here, though they are probably the two most strongest groups in the school. They use more mental energy than physical energy.

The Chess Club meets once a week after school. They have now been an organization at this school for five years. Mr. Firth has sponsored it all five years.

The Science Club, however, will be very busy this year organizing the Jr. High Science Fair for the second time. After all the hectic work at the Science Fair, they will take the day off and go to the Omni Theater in Fort Worth.

Chess Club members are: M. Geer, P. Geer, W. Cadell, R. Bratton, Mr. Firth, (not pictured: J. Carr, T. Marcell, C. Mills, D. Ballard, M. Robertson.)

Getting An Education
from programs of learning

HECE, for those of you who don't know, stands for Home Economics Cooperative Education. This is a very helpful program in which the students go to school half a day and then leave to go to work. This is a lot more than just getting out of school, they get credits and grades for it. Ms. Lamb, the sponsor, goes and observes the students on the job for part of their grade.

"The students have an advantage over these who have not had work experience," says Ms. Lamb. This is an organization that shows the students responsibility and determination.

The High School Computer Club consists of grades nine through twelve, with Ms. Mankoff sponsoring. Although, these students do a lot of hard work, they also have some fun. This organization sponsors some school dances and fund raisers. The Computer Club has been a succesful organization to this school for three years now. We hope to have many more to come. "Computers is a blast, but watch out for Ms. Mankoff, because she is a mean kung-fu machine," says Junior Lisa Lopes.

Twice The Weight

double the accomplishment

FFA has the reputation of a bunch of guys getting together and having fun, but there's a lot of work that goes on too. At the beginning of every year there is an annual "howdy party," in which all the guys get together, cook barbeque, sign up, and elect officers. The first year the guys are known as greenhands and the last three years they are known as chapter members. Richard Garner is the sponsor. Mr. Garner said, "We have more students enrolled in agriculture than ever before. We will also have more livestock in the Aubrey Jr. livestock show than ever before." In the last two years the animals and projects have brought in more than $26,000. This year they will sell fruit and turkey's for Thanksgiving and Christmas. In the past they have just sold for Christmas. Another one of the projects — is to make an official AUBREY FFA livestock trailer.

FFA is a very important organization. We can all remember how they always had "something to do in the ag. shop." This was always so important that they just had to get out of class.

FCA and FHA are two very different organizations, but they do have one thing in common; they are working toward goals of some kind. FCA, sponsored by Coach Oldham, otherwise known as Fellowship of Christian Athletes, is a wonderful program. Their goal is to have a tremendous athletic program with everyone doing things they know are right and not being ashamed of them. This year the FCA group went Christmas caroling to show their holiday spirit.

FHA, sponsored by Ms. Brown, is a very good learning experience. It stands for Future Homemakers of America. The group is made up of people who are interested in making a home and learning how to organize and care for the needs of a family. This is an organization that proves there is a lot more to being a homemaker than what most people think. FHA was one of the groups that went to the Omni Theatre this year. Ms. Brown quoted, "Our activities focus on individual growth, preparation for family life, and development of occupation of youth in today's society."

Double Devotion
many accomplishments

The sixth and seventh grade band had a very accomplishing year. There were many talented and dedicated individuals that participated. They practiced hard and devoted lots of extra time to this organization. We would especially like to recognize them for their help in selling fund raisers for the possible purchase of high school uniforms.

At their Christmas performance, they were a huge success and their time and hard work showed to everyone.

Michelle Kuzov just can't seem to get that stand in the right position, while Ms. Hall looks as if she's ready to start.

A Crescendo To Success with pleasing rewards

The organization started a good concert season. The Christmas concert was held at NTSU. In preparation for the spring concert on March 31, the ensemble participated in a band clinic with Mr. Dan Presgrave, Director of Bands and Orchestra Conductor at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri. Mr. Presgrave was also guest conductor at the spring concert. The final concert of the year was the Senior Appreciation Concert which honored the graduating musicians.

In addition to performing their annual concerts, the organization entered two competitions. In April, the band participated in the UIL Concert and Sightreading Contest. They also competed in the Sandy Lake Music Festival.

The band program is not entirely a group organization. There are many individual activities to get involved in. Several band members auditioned for All Region Band, North Texas Honor Band, and the North Texas Saxophone Symposium. Todd Elkins and Michelle Byrom auditioned for and were accepted in the Texas Luthern College Senior Honor Band in Seguin. On February 20, a flute trio and several solo musicians competed in the UIL Solo and Ensemble Contest at NTSU. A superior rating at this competition qualifies a soloist or ensemble for the state contest in Austin.

Hard work and dedication do not go unrewarded. This year Michelle Byrom, Todd Elkins, Jimmy Hampton, and Rebecca Richardson were selected to Who's Who in Music. The band also gives three national awards to outstanding individuals. They are John Phillip Sousa Award, Aion Award, and the Director's Awards for Band.

However, all the work and dedication is nothing without the guidance of a great band director such as Miss Beverly Hall. Because of her skillful teaching abilities, the band has had yet another very successful year. Under her direction, the Aubrey High School will continue to be an organization of high standards of which we can be proud.

The J.V. and Jr. High squads did a great job this year. The atmosphere on Thursday nights was always filled with excitement. The Jr. High cheerleaders, along with their sponsor Mrs. Pollard, went to camp at T.W.U.. Mrs. Pollard commented, "The girls showed they had talent when they came in third place last summer at camp during competition. This qualified them to go Nationals in Tennessee. Even though six out of the eight games they were on the road, they always backed the football guys with lots of enthusiasm." The J.V. squad attended camp at N.T.S.U.. They received four superior ribbons and one excellent. They also sold football programs every week at the varsity games. The J.V. squad did many things that encouraged spirit for the varsity games also. They were very appreciated and a big help. Their sponsor, Mariln Hampton, said, "You worked hard and you worked together and it always showed." We are very proud of both groups.

Twice The Number
with extra excitement

The drill team consisted of nine members and two captains. They didn't have a sponsor until Lilian Self took over. "They did a great job for the small amount of time that we had," said Leighann Ingram, one of the captains. They performed at three games, starting at Homecoming. The groups performance was outstanding and showed good organization with an enormous amount of school spirit.

The band has also made a great contribution in school spirit. After a touchdown is made it is always exciting to hear the sound of the school fight song in the background. Although our band is smaller than most, they sound better than many of the larger ones. One of the crowd's favorite routines was the "Twist and Shout" routine, performed with sunglasses. This really got the crowd going. The band and drill team combined for the "LaBamba" routine, which was also a favorite. We owe a big thanks to these two groups for their enthusiasm.

Lots Of Dedication
double the enthusiasm

There is alot more to being a cheerleader than just looking pretty, having a big smile, and jumping around. Alot of hard work is done behind the scenes. The girls had practice at 7:00 every morning through football season. During the summer they attended camp at N.T.S.U. in July. The squad received five superior ribbons and brought home a spirit stick. Along with the cheerleaders, our mascot, Angela Sessions, attended the mascot camp. She was in her own words, "Top Gun."

They also held the Pee Wee camp. The money they earned went toward the new sweaters they got this year. These are eight girls and one mighty Chaparral mascot that did nothing on Friday nights but gave a great effort to cheer their team and crowd on to VICTORY. "The girls were self-motivators and always strived for excellence," said their sponsor, Pam Kuzov.

Sports, in many people's opinion, is the most exciting section of the yearbook. It includes all of the sports offered at Aubrey, such as: volleyball, cross country, track, weight lifting, basketball, baseball, and of course, football. All sports are for both girls and boys as was proven by Shayla Tyler. This year she became the first girl football player at Aubrey. Junior High, Junior Varsity, and Varsity teams, put in long hours of hard training this year and accomplished a lot through their efforts. It is this pride and dedication that makes every Aubrey player a winner.

Misty Sherrill says, "I'd make a good football player. I'm big, I'm bad, and I'm mean! Well, 2 out of 3 isn't bad."

Expanding Their Ability
. . . with teamwork

The Lady Chaps Varsity Volleyball team did very well this year. The players consisted of three seniors, one junior, and four sophomores. Towards the end of the season they lost two of their players due to injuries, but the team still played their hearts out.

The completion of the construction on the gym sure helped to make after school practices easier and more productive. The team practiced long and hard with Coach Alita Dillon boosting their desire to do better.

The team proved to be both enthusiastic and also supportive of each other. "Lack of experience and depth, some illness, and injuries have produced a season short on the win column and long on the loss column. Still, the Lady Chaps "Never Say Die" attitude will ensure constant hard work and improvement," said Coach Alita Dillion. With each game they tried to jump a little higher and hit the ball a little harder. Whether the girls won or lost, they did always manage to keep up their morale and spirit, and have fun.

Twice The Determination and showing it

Showing their spirit, the junior varsity and freshman teams pulled it together as a team. Even though some of the upper classman had to play in some of the freshman games, they always supported one another. Sometimes Coach Dillon would let some of the freshman play in junior varsity matches.

The freshman got off to a slow start but with the help of the junior varsity players things began to turn around. With every game you could see the improvements of both teams. "The group continued to work hard and show enthusiasm for the game. I have been very pleased with the Freshman's skill development," said Coach Dillon. As each season goes by the players will continue to "strut their stuff!" Next year's Varsity and JV teams should do really well.

Setting Records
in a "half" way

The Cross country team of the 1987-88 school year consisted of six dedicated members. They work out every day at school lifting weights and running after school. Sometimes they met at school at 7:00 in the evenings and ran until 8:30. These girls worked hard and it showed. There was one senior, three juniors, one sophomore, and one freshman.

The cross country girls get up early on Saturday mornings to compete in far away meets. They spend the bus ride to the meet concentrating, talking a little, gearing themselves up for the meet, and getting ready to win. Coach Debbie Sanders commented "I have high hopes for the girl's cross country team, even though we only have two back from last year. My cross country teams have always had a special place with me." The girls are very competitive in this sport. They have what it takes to get what they want.

Double The Ability
and doing it with "pride"

At the end of the summer these guys start out football with two-a-days. Then comes the scrimmages and the first games of the season. It happens like this every year, but it's never the same feeling.

The Varsity football team works together with pride. The pride was built up so high this year that it was unbelievable, but you can't have pride unless you have something to believe in. The students stood behind this team, and believed in them no matter what the results were. The students weren't the only ones who were excited to see a good game of football.

This year, the guys that were determined to win were winners no matter what the scoreboard might say. Although the season wasn't quite what was expected, at least their pride pulled them through.

This year we almost went to the playoffs. Coach Bloedel remarked, "I am very proud of all the young men that participated in Aubrey football this fall. The varsity showed a lot of character winning three out of their last four ball games. After a rough start they pulled together as a team, never quit, and played great football. These young men believed in their teammates, coaches and themselves. They are truly winners."

"Twice The Work"
pays off

Junior varsity worked hard to get where they stand today. The players all work together on and off the field. These guys are tough competition. They proved that our first game against Gunter. "We have some really excellent junior varsity football players this year and are looking forward to seeing them in the years to come. Because of their winning record we expect a winning team their junior and senior year," commented Coach Jackie McBroom.

The team consisted of 20 strong and determined young men. Ten of these guys are sophomores. "The junior varsitys big strength this year are the sophomores," stated Coach Jackie McBroom. They were seventh grade, eighth grade, and freshmen district champs. Junior varsity is always up for a game because of their winning from the past.

Twice As Competitive

with twice the ability

The 8th grade is also a dedicated group of young men. With many victories behind them, they look forward to each week's game and the goal they have in their hearts and minds-TO WIN!!

With many outstanding players and very few injuries, these young athletes have had great attitudes. The team would ignore all handicaps with determination to be the best and to look the best. It was a team effort throughout the whole season. The team played extremely well against other teams. The coaches, Jim Davis and Keith Oldham, are very proud of these young men.

Terry Brockett said, "It was fun. We had good coaches who made it fun." The team played together, never dwelling on the past, but looking to the future.

The defensive line of the Aubrey eighth grade really knows how to get in there and play tough defense.

Leaving opponents behind him, Brian Ramsey runs for one of the many touchdowns he has made this season.

The crowd eagerly watches while Pat Taylor moves in to catch the kick-off.

That referee, during an away game at Pottsboro, needs to realize that Coach Oldham is not one to give up, whether we're ahead or behind.

Twice As Together
and working hard

The 7th grade football team was rared up and ready to win this year. They are a hard-working group and always ready to play. The team has improved on offense and defense consistently and is expected to have a bright future. They have worked hard to get where they are.

A surprising acceptance was that of Shayla Tyler, the first girl in Aubrey to be on a football team. She is doing a great job on both offense and defense. Shayla remarked, "It gets hard at times, because I'm a girl. It's easy knocking down all those guys, especially the ones that find out I'm a girl."

The team is doing very well this year, and the records prove it. The coaches, Jerry Stensgard and Keith Oldham, are proud of this team and would like to thank them for their all-out effort on the team.

Starting off with high hopes of a good district record, the determined Varsity Boys Basketball Team were pushing their skills to the limit. With height at their advantage, three pointers and remarkable ball-handling showed during the games. But these skills are not all you need to have a winning edge. Pride in your school, faith in yourself and in your team, and the confidence that you will do your best are also factors needed.

When players play as a team and think as one instead of five, the points accumulate faster because when one of the five score, all five feel the satisfaction of putting it in. A team goes farther and last longer when they are molded to think and react as one. Coach Davis has the ability to mold young men into players that think as a team of five with the thoughts of one — instead of five young men that have five thoughts competing to see who is the best. At the end of the season Davis had this to say about the 1988 season, "It was a GREAT season, with a GREAT team. AUBREY BASKETBALL is #1."

Twice As Good
With A New Beginning

The 1988 Varsity girls basketball started with several new beginnings. This was the first year to have complete use of the new gym. We also had a new coach, Joel Nelson. Even though the team was inexperienced, their determination lead them to many victories. With a good atmosphere, new ideas, and improved attitudes, the season proved to be a success.

When asked what he thought about the team this year, Coach Nelson stated, "The girls learned how to play together as a team as the season progressed. All of them worked hard on the fundamentals, and it really paid off. It was a great year as each individual improved in all areas."

The 1987-88 Boys Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a good season. These guys have a great attitude towards basketball. Every player has a talent of some kind; whether it is dribbling, shooting, offense, or defense. Each person has to know the basics of basketball and these guys have it. Their spirits were very high and their worries were little. Once they stepped on the court all that went through their minds was "basketball." These young players looked up with anticipation to the upcoming season. "Their skills have really improved, and I really enjoyed coaching them," said Coach Stensgard.

The junior varsity boys made progress through out the season. Each game was an improvement from the last one. These guys have what it took to have a winning team this year. They lifted weights after school; while waiting to practice in the gym. Then there was a long and tiresome workout following, but they never complained. In order to have a successful team it has to be done with teamwork. That is the key to all great teams. The cooperation with each other and the coach was excellent. They all got along and worked together as a team. There were a lot of players who were really interested in learning how to play the game.

This years J.V. Basketball Team was a young team. The team consisted of 12 players. They were all freshman but two. Coached by Joel Nelson, the team had a strong finish. He stated that, "The J.V. girls improved tremendously during the season. Their fundamentals got better with each game they played. I look for good things out of these girls in the years to come."

The team worked long and hard during practices after school. You could see the improvements on offense and defense as the season progressed. Their main disadvantage was height. They did, however, have quickness, speed and the ability to make things happen. They always appeared to be ready and wiling to go out and play good, solid basketball. They were a group that never quit and always gave 100% in practices and games.

The team played as a team, worked as a team, and won or lost as a team. Every player contributed to the team in one way or another. They have come a long way this season, and they will continue to get even better as the years go on. Each player used their talent and skills to complete a good season.

Putting It Together

as a team

The seventh grade had a strong showing this year. The team came early every morning for practice. They were here at 7 a.m. and ready to play. The seventh grade is coached by Coach Stensgard. He commented "The seventh grade worked hard and it showed in their defense. Their skills really improved with each game they played." They played strong throughout every game. The team is very consistent.

The eighth grade basketball team consist of eight dedicated members. They played strong for such a small team. Terry Brockett and Doug Ballard led the Chaparrals, to exciting victories with their ability of great shooting. They placed third in the Prosper Tournament. Coach Bloedel said, "Team basketball is the key for these young men. They press and play tough man to man defense. Their talents were expressed by their courage and pride to win."

Twice The Size
And Making It Work

The seventh and eighth grade basketball teams were very big this year. The 7th grade had 17 players. Their coach was Jean Mankoff. The 8th grade had 21 players. Their coach was Debbie Sanders.

"The 7th grade girls basketball team had a great season this year compiling a record of 14 wins and 1 loss. They came in first in district with an undefeated record of 9-0. They also won the Aubrey Jr. High tournament suffering their only loss of the season to a tough Northwest team. These girls have alot of talent and a great desire to win. The Aubrey girls basketball program has a great future with these girls coming up," stated Coach Mankoff.

The eighth grade team did very well this year also. They improved on their skills and techniques as the season continued. The eighth grade did not have heighth so they used their quickness and speed to get the ball down the court. This team gave their best at every game and every practice.

Jennifer Rocha goes for the layup while she is obviously being fouled.

Twice The Laps
And Expanding

Track is an event which takes individual work. In order to receive anything in a race, you have to be willing to give your all. It takes a lot of time and hard work from each person. When the season first starts it seems very difficult. It gets better as the season passes on.

The varsity boys track team worked hard to reach their goals. They strived with an unending courage and a will to press on. The seniors knew that this was the year for records and goals to be set. This was the one season they would remember in the years to come, their senior year.

The freshman, sophomores, and juniors also ran with a burning desire to meet their goals. They ran with a motto of: "No pain, No gain." Even though sometimes there was more pain than the gain. In the end it was worth the time spent. They pretty well accomplished what they set out to do.

Taking Long Strides
With Twice The Endurance

This year, after basketball, track season was in the air. Though most students dreaded this time, they never could say after it started, they weren't toning up.

Even though there are many different kinds of "trackers", they each come together to join as a team. Giving it all they've got to either cross the finish line first, jump past that better jumper, or throw as far as they possibly could, they were always determined to improve to become better. The day long track meets didn't seem too much fun, but always paid off in the end and somehow always remained memorable. The team was always supportive of each other in the meets they attended and in the practices.

Whether it was long strides or short distances wanting to be accomplished, the goal was always made. We've always had outstanding people on the team, with remarkable talent. Coach Sanders commented, "With two regional qualifiers and several alternates back from last year, I'm looking forward to this track season."

◗ Laney Byrom lets her strength show as she reaches for that extra footage.

◗ Brockman, Holt, Ferguson, Laufman, Trevino, McAdams, Foutch, Hendriks, C. Dillon, Hollar, Powell, Baker, Self, Plumlee, Lartrip, Squires, Ellis, C. Sanders, Zackery, Skinner, Needum, Bennett, Foster, Sessions, Foutch, Calhoun, Mulkey, McNabb, Nelson, Lantrip, Brockett, Crowder, Moore, Davis, Ivy.

Twice The Strength
And Going Great Distances

Lifting to the limit this year, the weightlifting team was rared up and ready to go. They practiced seventh period or until they had finished the workout for the day. The offseason program paid off, too. With outstanding lifter the team was always ready to pump some iron. They went long distances to lifet, and came back proud.

This year we had a new addition to our sports program: golf. "putting away" on the team were five golfers. They practiced at the North Texas Golfing Courses, trying to improve their skills since this was a new sport to them.

Coach Mankoff commented, "It's a new team. We had a lot of fun this year. I can't wait until next year."

• The "putters" this year were: Troy Trevino, Daryl Hellman, and Vaughn Whittle. (Top) Rickey Howell, John Bridges, and Coach Jean Mankoff, (Bottom)

Catching The Crowd
With Twice The Effort

The 1988 season is the second season for the Aubrey Varsity Baseball team. Many of the students who played last year have returned. The boys are working hard on improving their skills and techniques from last year. Coach Jerry Stensgard taught these guys all he knows about baseball.

The players have again continued to work on their batting, pitching, fielding, and sliding. These determined young men put in long, hard practices almost everyday. They work hard to increase their speed and quickness. These guys have quite a bit of potential and talent. With their abilities, they do very well. They should continue do to even better in the oncoming years.

The team had an excellent group of players. The team consisted of fourteen dedicated players: five seniors, one junior, three sophomores, and five freshman. Coach Stensgard later commented, "The Baseball team really improved over last years performance. It was enjoyable coaching these young men." The team participated in games against teams in district and non-district.

◗ This years baseball team consists of: (Front, l to r) J. Lucas, L. Rodges, B. Fields, D. Millican, L. Gillum; (middle) C. Millican, B. Mulkey, W. Gore, S. Erwin, B. Needum; (back) Coach Stensgard, M. Whitehill, J. Lucas, D. Hellman, and J. Hardin.

◗ Billy Fields, David Millican, and Lance Gillum plan out their strategy for their next move.

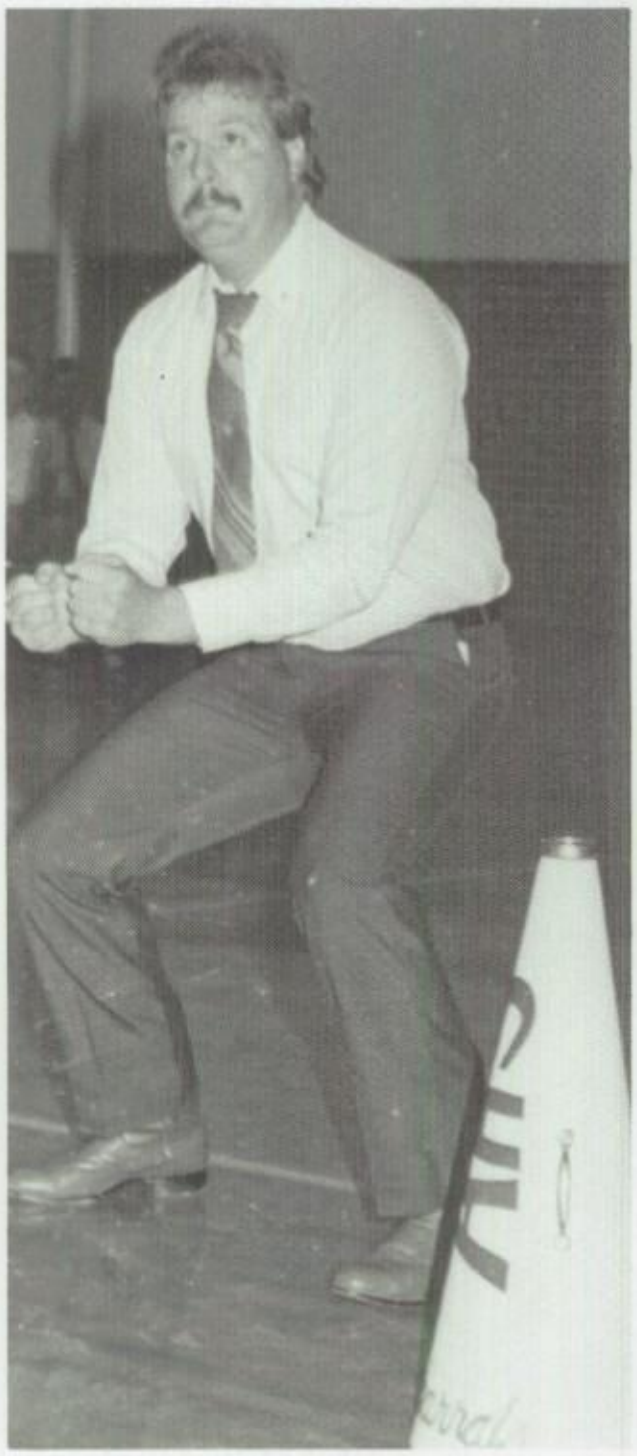
Summing It Up

A good attitude and good grades set the role model an athlete needs to have to get their position and stay there. You can remember where the action happened, and maybe someday after you graduate a person may come up to you and say "I always wanted to be just like you in high school."



Coach Bloedel shows his spirit at a pep-rally while getting the guys fired up.

Kelly Moore streches to lift the ball up while Karen Davis is prepared to help.

Shane Kruger is trying for a first down against Anna. He watched the defense out of the corner of his eye.

◀ Daryl Hellman makes it look so easy to do a jump shot. The players all watch with intent.

Jay Lucas shows off his muscles as he lays the ball up in the Aubrey gym.

Karen Davis, President; Angela Ivy, Vice-president; and Bill Russell, Secretary; show Seniors have class.

The Advertisement section is the most important one of your yearbook; yet the one looked at the least. They help keep the price of your yearbook down. This years books averaged out to cost around $32.50 each. This means the ads make up the difference of $12.50 to make the books only cost you $20.00 each.

We have devoted a special section to the Seniors this year called "Senior Dedications". These pages are purchased by friends and family of Senior students and contain everything from elementary artwork to cap and gown portraits.

Natalie Hanson, Ad editor, says one of her favorite phrases, "I quit", as she balances the annual money.

Recipe For a Kelly Gay Moore

Into a container place:

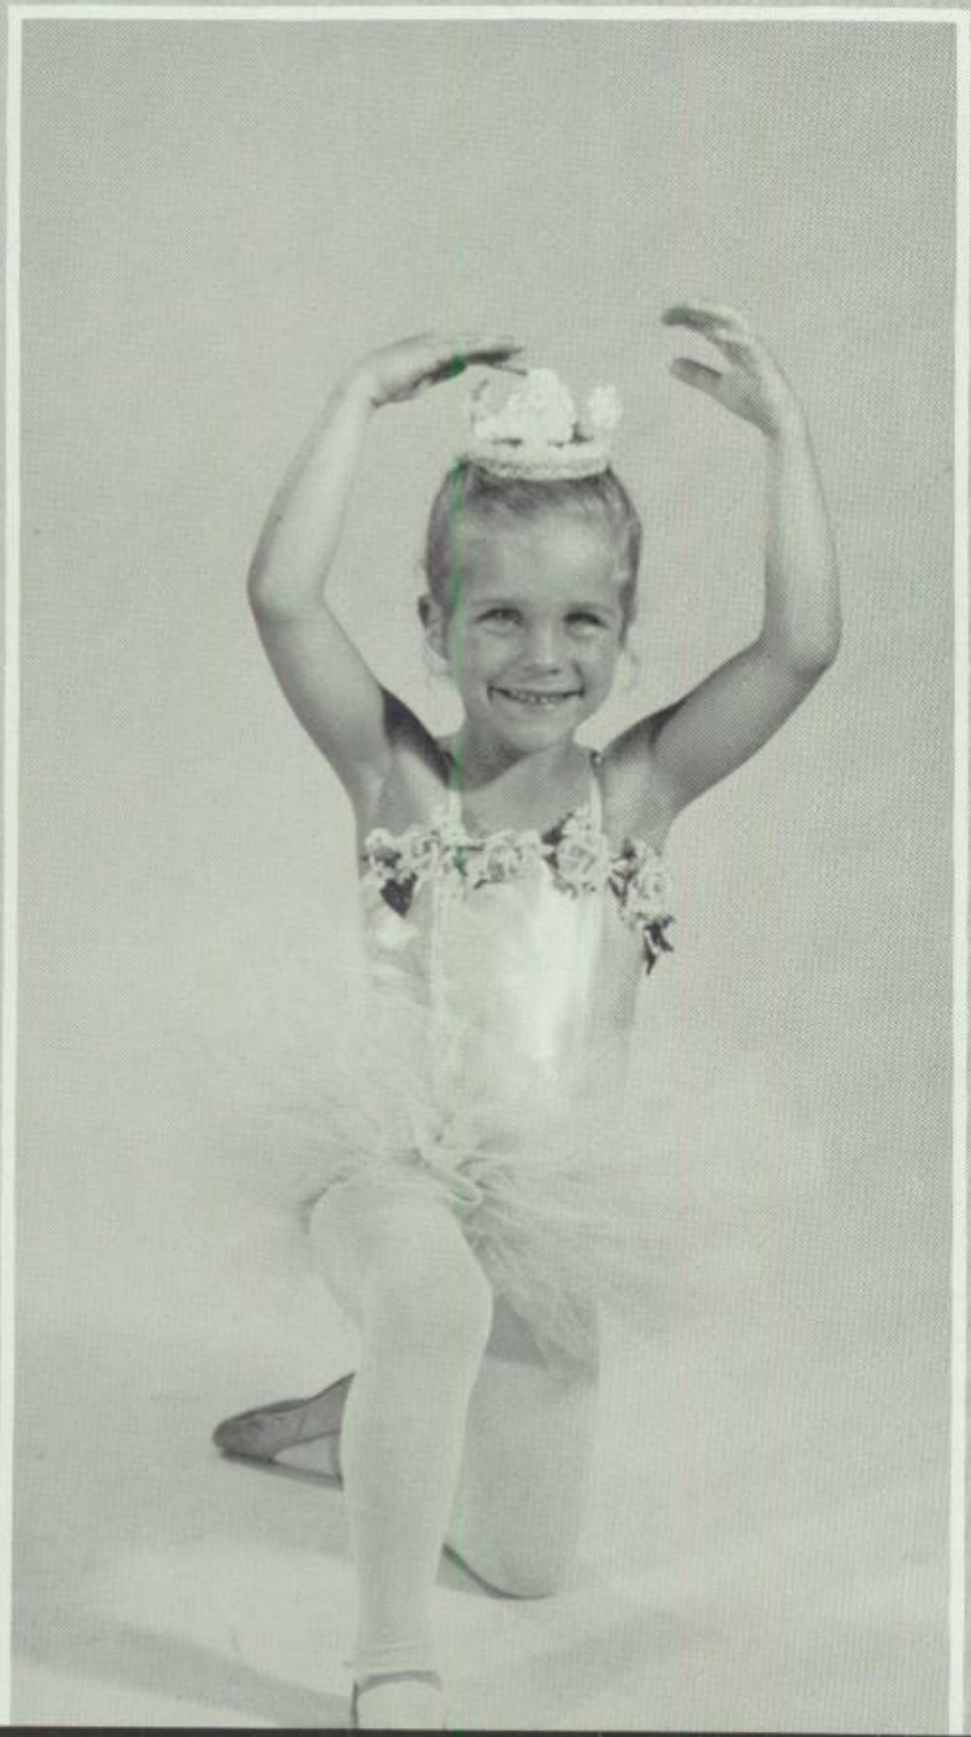
A generous amount of imagination
A great deal of judgement
Just enough stubborness to be interesting
A tremendous amount of emotion
A great desire to be one's own self

Mix the above ingredients well — bring to a boil in Texas — the first 10 years in Forney — the next 8 years in Aubrey during this time spoil them terribly by pampering and an overabundance of love.

It is during these years the mixture receives the spices that give it its wonderful zest for life — the respect for the people and the surrounding it lives in. It must be allowed to explore (with guidance) the wonderful world around it — given a chance to think for itself and ample opportunity to express itself. Also gives it a chance to show its athletic abilities.

After 18 years the mixture should come to a full boil!!! Pour it into a tall female shaped container — let it cool. Decorate it with blondish — brown hair — a smile that melts her Daddy's heart — blue — sometimes green eyes that her mother thinks could conquer the world — let it be itself and you have our Kelly Gay Moore.

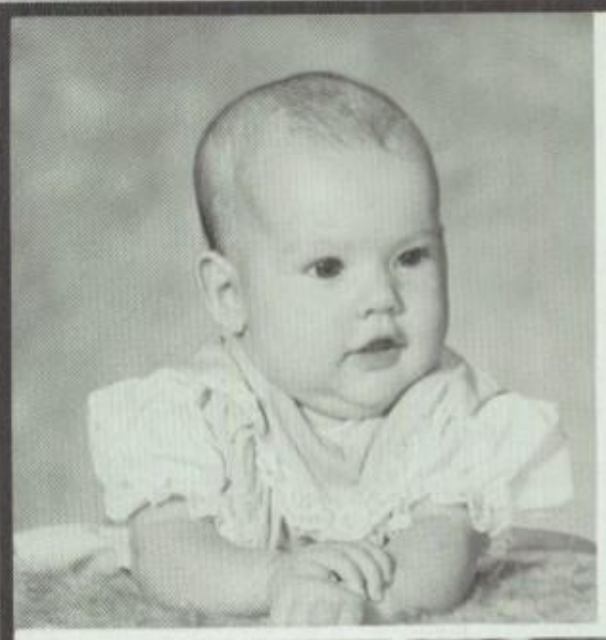
Mom and Dad



Michelle,

We are so very proud of you and your accomplishments thus far. We wish you the best in whatever you strive to be.

We love you,
Dad, Mom, and Keith

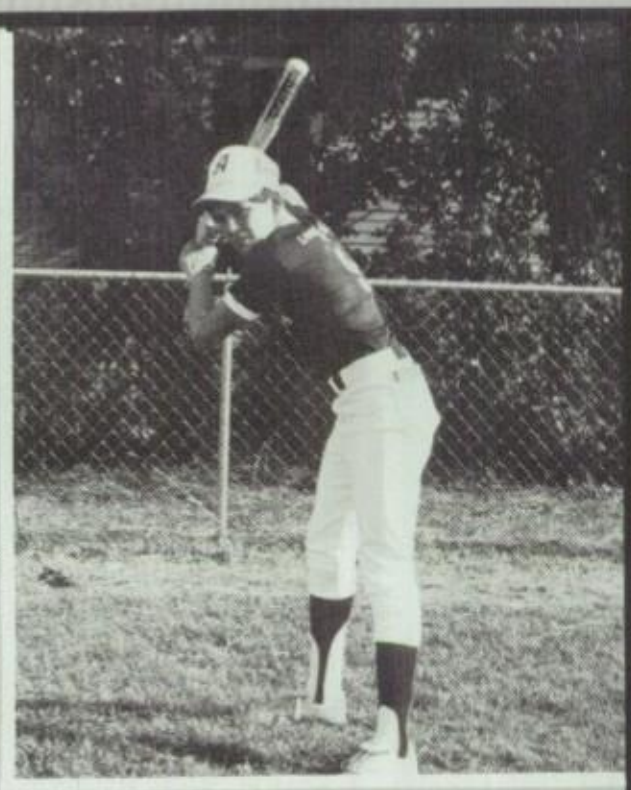


JOSIE-

My little angel
I rocked and held
Time has taken away
Into a grown lady
You have changed
Time is sneaky-

We are proud of you and your accomplishments. We look forward to your future!

Mom and Charles

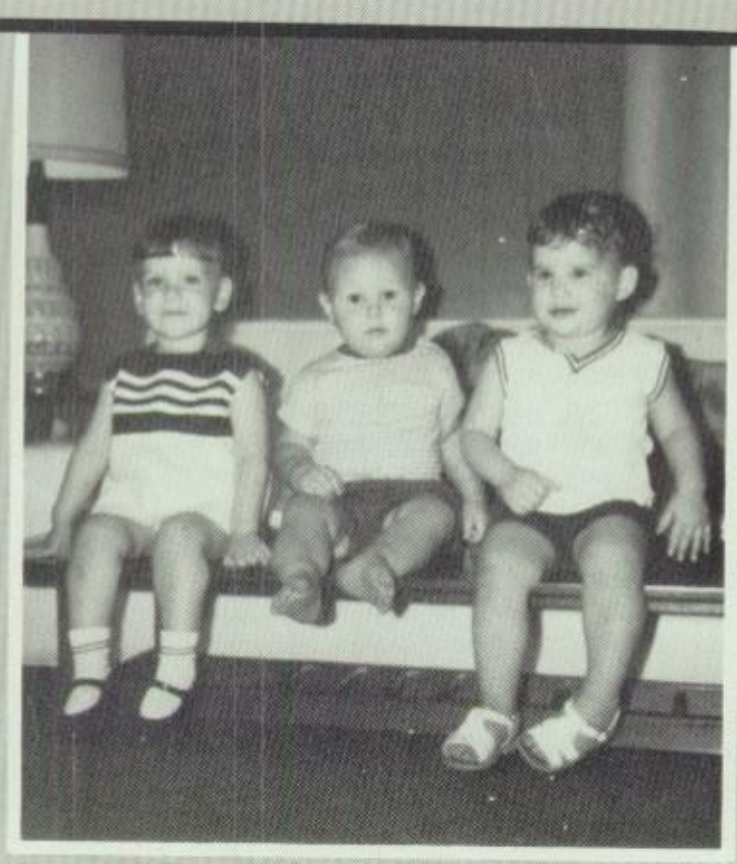


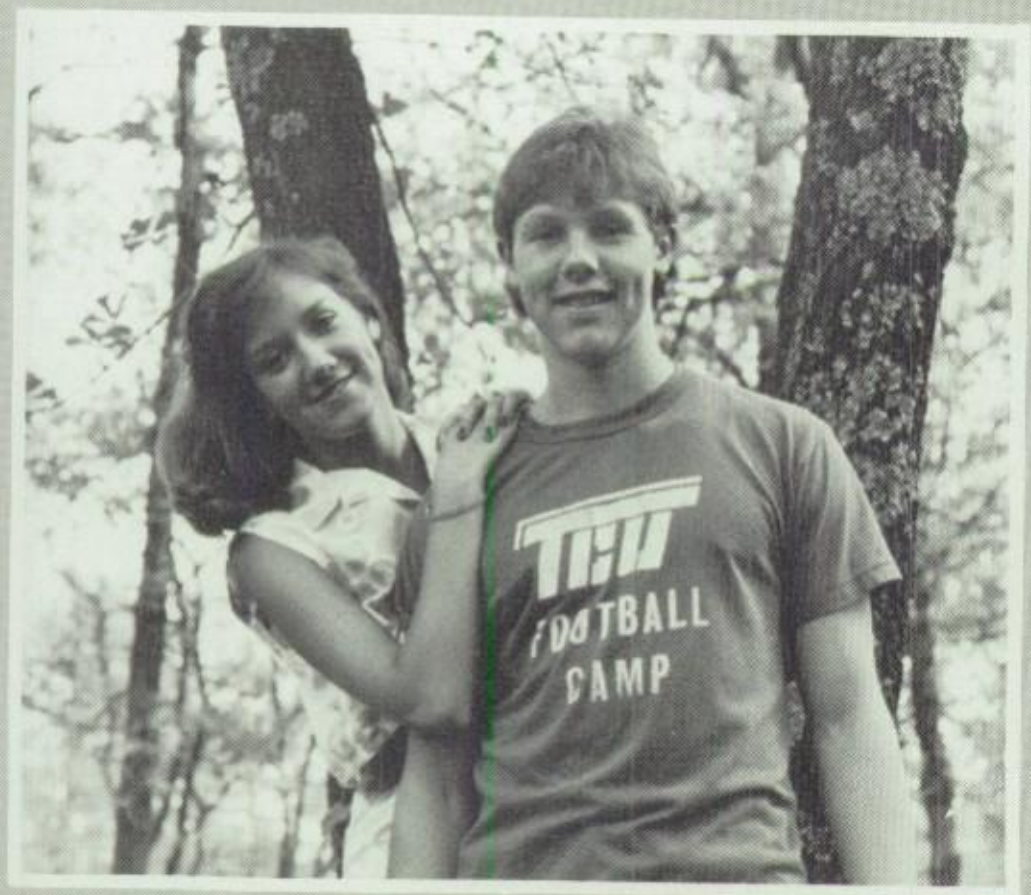
Terry:

It has been a long hard road getting to this time in your life. Yet when you look back over the years, the time we've had with each other is so very short. We've shared many things the past 18 years, some good, some bad. But through it all we've had each other, and the love and friendship we have all shared.

We are very proud of you son, for the young man you have become. For your strength, faith, and courage. Remember the things you know to be true and right. Always have faith in God. Let his spirit guide you. With him beside you, all your dreams and goals can be achieved. You can reach for the stars! As we have heard you say many times-"Go for it"-son!

"All Our Love Always"
Mom, Dad, Lorrie, Tina



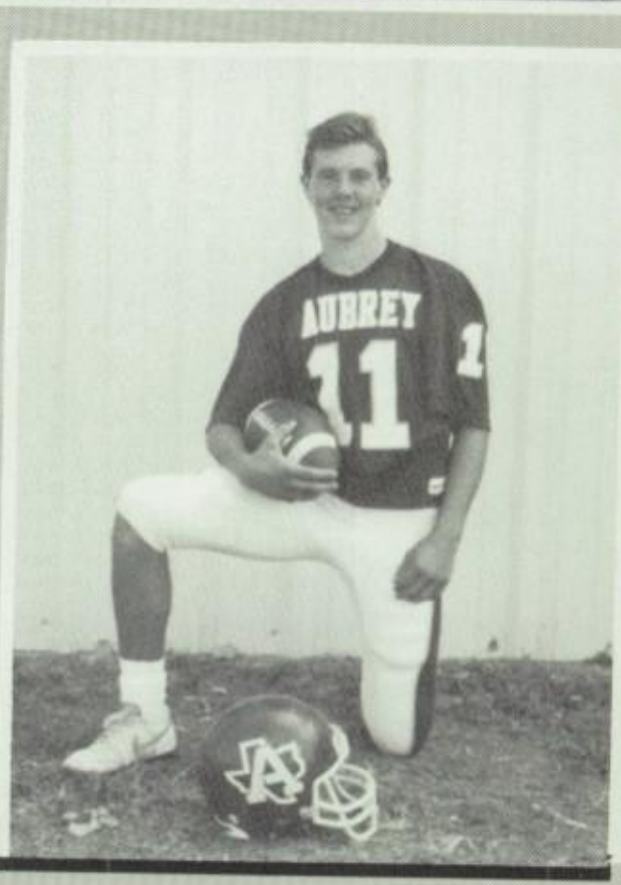


Jacqueline and John,
We've watched you grow into a young lady and young man.

You have brought much joy to us thru the years.

May God bless each of you in a special way.

Love from your parents,
Jack and Ann
Thurman and Jo Ann



Todd, If we could change you in any way there is very little that we would change. You made our family complete when you came to live with us. You have given us much joy and happiness and we love you dearly.

Daddy, Mama, Donna, Billy, Tonya & Baby Brittney

Tammy,

We've watched you grow from a little girl to a young woman. We are so proud of you and love you so very much. We wish you all the best for the future.

Mom, Dad and Pam

God gave us a very special blessing when you were born. You have made us very proud. May God bless you and protect you in the years ahead.

To a wonderful son, you are the sunshine of our lives, the apple of our eyes. You were a winner from the day you were born. It's very appropriate that you were a winner in shot-put during district your Jr. year. A great honor to be in the elite at State qualifiers. This year we all have faith you will be a State champion. You have fate in your hands.

Go for the gold!

Love,

Dad, Mom, Shelley and Jefferey

We are very proud of you-have been since the doctor said "It's a girl." I cried then with happiness and have cried a lot of happy tears since that moment but very few sad tears. You were a beautiful little girl and now you are a beautiful young lady inside and outside. Dad didn't think there was another little girl in the whole world like his little "Ran Ran". Then there were your two brothers. How they loved you, to look back now and thank our dear heavenly father, that you are here to graduate.

Remember when you were three, they put you on the bull, you were going to be a bull rider. Then there was the ice storm, you went for a ride behind the pick up truck. "Jump Karen," and you did. You have been a role model for your little sister, she thinks you are great. Thanks Rock, for being you, and letting us share 17 years of your life. Our prayers are always with you. We thank God, the Angel he sent to love was you.

Love Mom, Dad, Calvin, Terry and Michele

You have given me the most rewarding year of my life. I've watched you grow from a teenager into a very responsible young man. To know that I have "mastered" raising a son that is so special in so many ways. You are your own very special person with some excellent qualities. Your personality is rare and you have your own special way of touching people's lives from your heart. You are truly one of the finest young men with lots of feelings and consideration for others. You are really motivated and a "good hard worker".

Having you as a son has fulfilled my life to the fullest. I know you will go far in life with lots of success.

I love you, Mom

Congratulations
on your Graduation

Jay,

We can't even begin to start to count the special thoughts and blessings you have brought to us.

You have always made our hearts happy ones. We are very proud of you!

Love

We feel so blessed that God has allowed you to be such a special part of our family. Your faith is an example & inspiration to us & you have brought us much joy & love. We are so proud of the lovely young woman you've grown up to be.

As you leave us soon to begin the next phase of your life in college, you will always have our love, support & prayers for God's continued blessings on your life.

We Love You So Much
Mom, Dad, & Michael

You have been a joy to behold.
Your future success in life is assured for you have learned . . .
The Value of Friendship,
The Meaning of Love,
The Need for Compassion
Our love we gave unconditionally.
You have earned our respect.

God Bless you,
Love
Mum, Dad, &
Laura

SWEETHEART YOU ARE A BLESSING FROM GOD

WE LOVE YOU POPPY AND MOM

SENIOR '88

Dear Tiffany Dawn Brockett Morgan
In October, 1969, God blessed us with a precious little girl who has filled our lives with joy! As you have grown and given God a place in your life, He has blessed you! Our prayer now is that you may continue seeking His will that He may continue those blessings of happiness and direction on your life. With God and a wonderful husband by your side, you can't lose

WE LOVE YOU DEARLY
Mom, Dad, Terry, Trista, & Trina
P.S. Thanks for always doing your best in everything

THE GIFT OF FRIENDSHIP
One Sunday morn at Sunday School,
You met a friend who'd become a jewel.
You played in sand, and playhouse, too.
And cooked for us your onion stew.
You started school that summer day,
And broke our hearts, "you were drifting away".
We laughed, we cried, we shared your joys,
Which later in life, included boys
Now you're grown, our memories linger
Of childhood days and good time ventures.
We now look forward to future years
Of bright expectations of our "Precious Dears".

Dear Lee Angela Ivy

I can't believe this is your Senior year. The years have gone so fast!

It seems like yesterday, one Christmas Day, 1969, that you were born. You have brought so much happiness into our lives, and we love you very much.

May God Bless You Always
Mom and Dad

SHARON
Thank you for always being there for me.
You're a very special person.
Love, Kim

AUBREY HAS THE EDGE

"The Edge" came to Aubrey High School on Tuesday, January 26, 1988. What is "The Edge"? Well, it is a rock group made up of five members, Mark, Kevin, Craig, Steve, and Chris, that travels all over the U.S.A. performing and talking to high school students. Their first visit to Aubrey High School lasted 45 minutes, and it was just a taste of what was to come the following Thursday.

At 7:30 p.m. Thursday night, the concert began. For an hour and a half this five man band blew the roof off of the Aubrey High School gymnasium by performing songs such as: "Jump", "In God's Country", "Is This Love", and "Paradise". During the concert, the lead singer, Mark, took time out to talk to students about drugs, suicide, God, and being a friend. After this talk, it was back to rocking and rolling. The band sold posters, buttons, and bandanas, signed autographs, and talked to the students after the concert. This was one event that the Aubrey students will always remember.

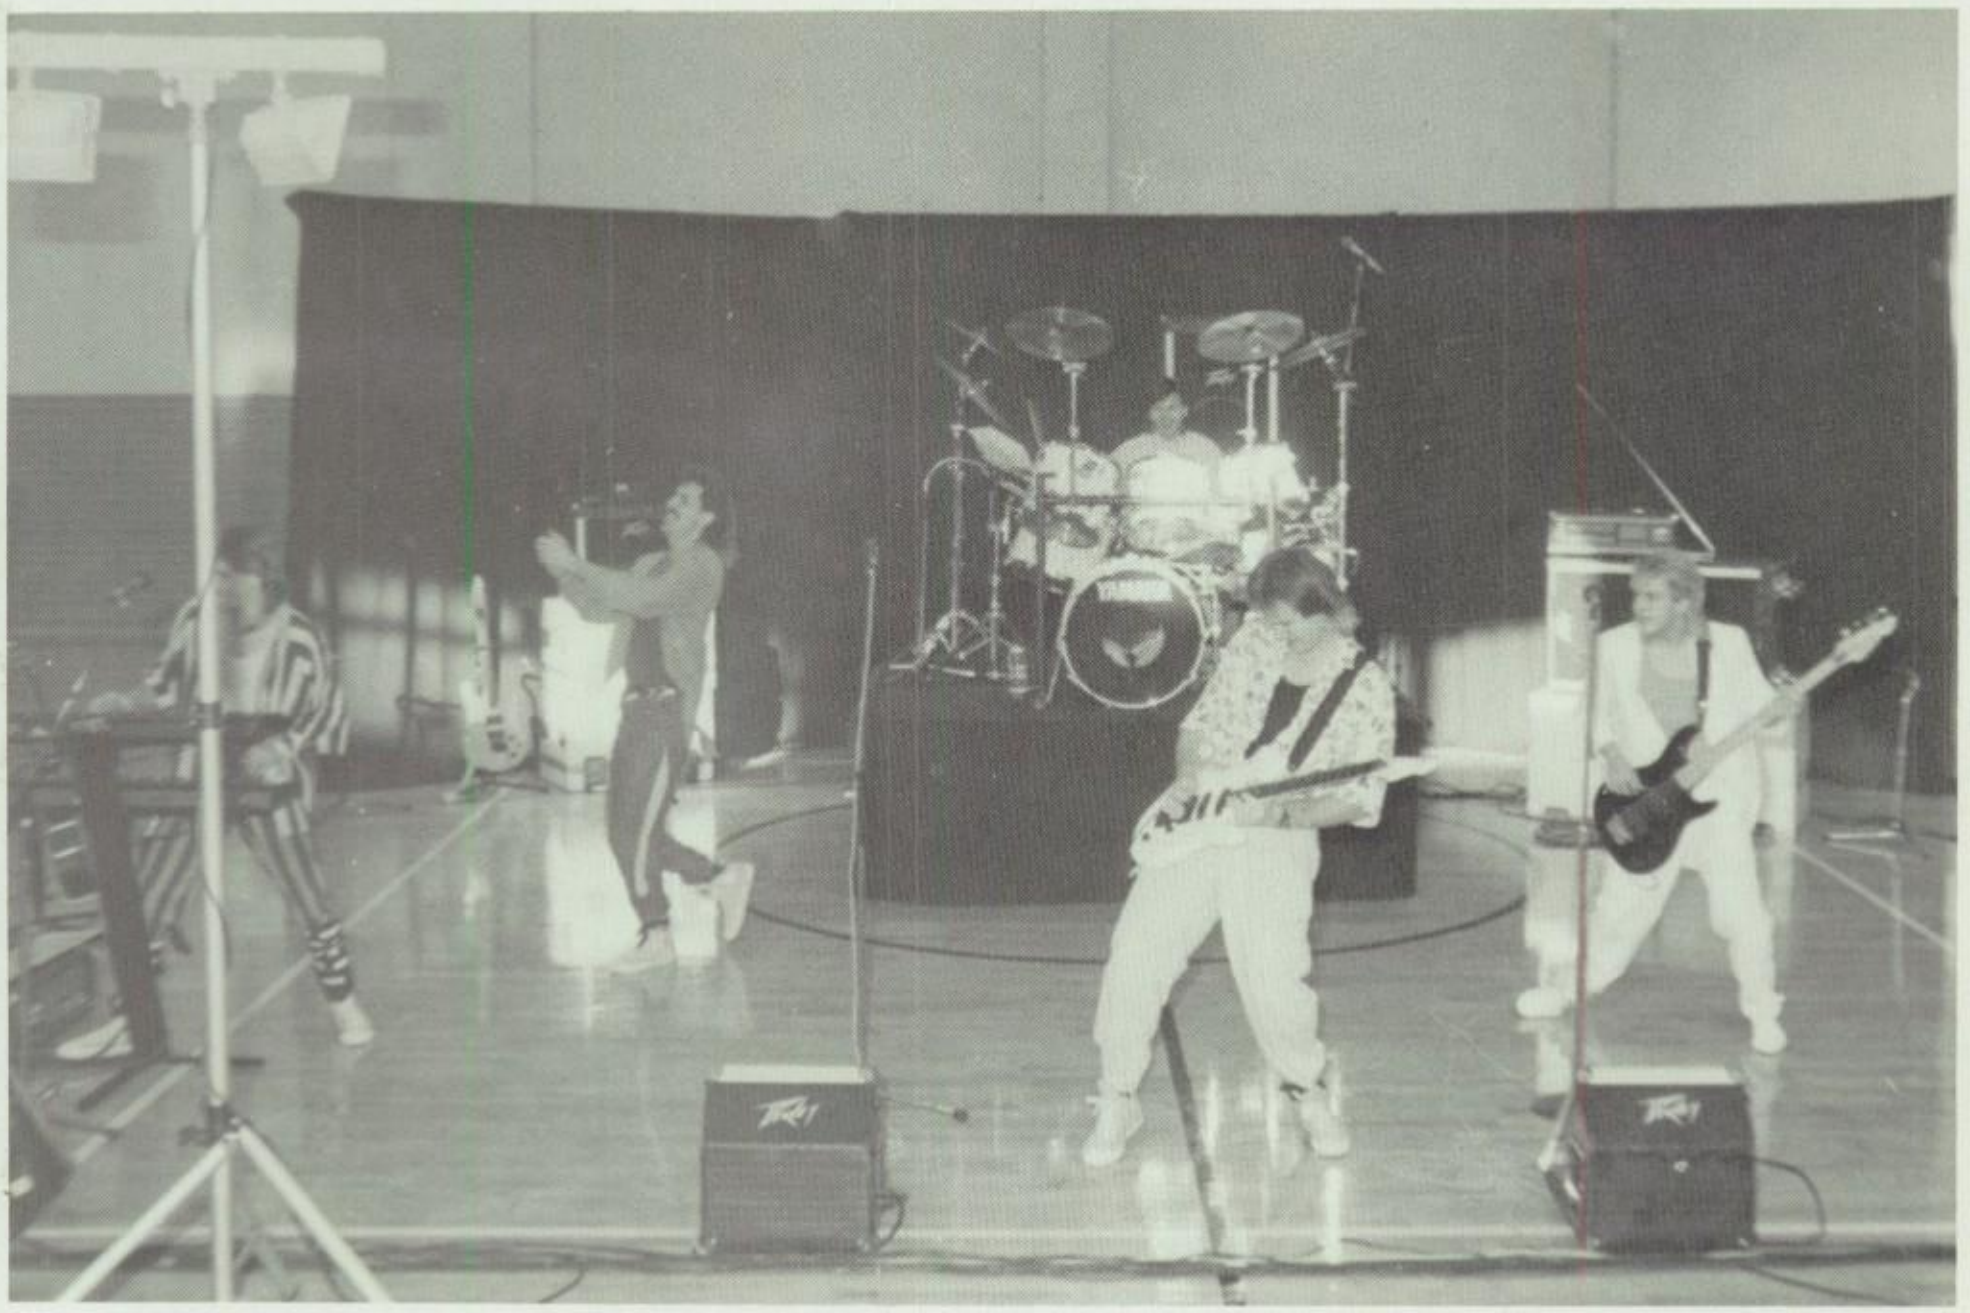
Steve makes those keyboards smoke during the concert Thursday night.

The lead singer of "The Edge", Mark, shows his enthusiasm as he performs for the Aubrey students.

Kelly Moore smiles with surprise as Kevin sings "Is This Love".

"The Edge" puts on a real show as the try to blow the roof off the high schoo gymnasium.

Craig's eyes show his surprise at being "asked" to stop singing.



TWICE AS GOOD!

We will remember the following things from this year:
1) The new parking lots were completed. (No more mud!)
2) Dress up week during Homecoming. (Who could forget Nerd Day or the Year 2000 Day?)
3) 100% of the junior class passed the exit TEAMS exam for the third year in a row.
4) The year we got to miss three days in a row due to snow.
5) The assembly by THE EDGE.
6) Your education isn't just important, it's everything. What you learn while you are in school has direct application to what will follow in the "real world" outside the school environment. Learn to be the best you can be in everything you do. Take pride in all you attempt. And last but not least, be a loyal friend. — S.K.

THE EDGE rakes time out to pose for the camera after their concert Tuesday afternoon.

Katie,

I haven't been in Aubrey for very long and I don't know many people but you are one of the sweetest and friendliest person I know here. We should have fun this summer with bowling and everything. I'm looking forward to it!

Your friend,
Lori Cooper
